Nominations Are Made For Annual 'Oscar' Awards

By CHARLES A. PANAMA

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13.—Two motion pictures dealing with the acting profession today dominated the nominations for Hollywood's coveted "Oscar" awards.

"All About Eve" and "Sunset Boulevard" captured 25 of the 103 nominations announced last night by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

The "Oscars," gilded statuettes costing $100 each but worth untold sums at the box-office, will be presented March 23 after balloting has selected the winner from among the nominees.

"Eve," the story of a stage actress who nurtures the ingenue who eventually pushes her into the background, nabbed 14 of the nominations, including two each for the best performance by an actress and best actress in a supporting role.

Brought Actress Back
"Sunset Boulevard," the Hollywood-set film drama that brought Gloria Swanson back to international screen fame, landed 11 places, including the nomination of Miss Swanson as the year's top actress.

Anne Baxter and Bette Davis were the two "Eve" stars who made the feminine list. It was the first time in the 23 years of Academy awards that two actresses in the same picture have been nominated for feminine star honors.

The other two, among five nominated, were Judy Holiday, the hilarious dumb blonde of "Born Yesterday," and Eleanor Parker, (Continued on Page Two)

In the odd sights department, Pa. News saw several workmen this morning heaving and pushing to get a large heavy safe up a much too narrow stairway on East Washington street. A part of the doorway had to be dismantled in order to get the several hundred pound steel and concrete box to its second floor destination.

Ice jams in several points about the county kept employees of the State Highway Department busy for several hours last night and early this morning. At Lakewood, the Neshannock Creek pushed several tons of ice on the road causing it to be closed for a while until workmen removed it with a grader. Neshannock Falls road near the covered bridge was jammed also by ice.

With much of the ice loosened from residential section walks, some residents took advantage of Monday's mild weather to wash (Continued on Page Two)

Heart Attack Kills Engineer On Train

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 13.—(INS)—The engineer of a crowded Lackawanna Railroad commuter train fell dead at his controls last night but the train was brought to a stop by the so-called "dead man's button."

Pressure on the button must be maintained or the train stops. None of the 600 passengers was injured. The death of the engineer, Joseph Barry, was attributed to a heart attack.

Modification Of Wage Freeze To Be Considered

Some New Orders Issued By Board On 'Price Freezes'

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The Wage Stabilization Board makes a new attempt today to break the deadlock which has kept wages "frozen" for nearly three weeks while price restrictions melt daily under a stream of government orders.

Called into Session
Chairman Cyrus S. Ching called the nine-man board back to work after a three-day recess to seek a pay increase formula to replace the January 25 freeze and head off a possible outbreak of strikes. Ultimately, the three public members of the WSB may be forced to make recommendations to Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston and let him issue the wage order.

Ching and his associates thus far have been unable to win support from the Labor and Industry Board members on the size of wage boosts to be permitted to compensate for higher living costs in the past year.

The public representatives proposed that a compromise allowing workers to negotiate for increases of up to eight per cent over the March 15, 1950 level but labor (Continued on Page Two)

Unusual Blast At Indiana Harbor; Four Are Injured

INDIANA HARBOR, Ind., Feb. 13.—(INS)—Four men were injured today when one or more 50-ton loads of molten slag spilled from an Inland Steel Co. plant railroad car into a pool of water, touching off a blast felt over a mile-square area.

The accident occurred in Indiana Harbor in a tunnel under an overpass carrying tracks of the New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania and Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railroad.

None of the four was seriously hurt. They were members of the crew of the Diesel switcher pulling eight cars through the tunnel.

A company official said two of the cars emerged from the tunnel. It was not determined immediately, he said, whether ladies on all of the remaining six cars had overturned.
A broken axle was blamed for the accident. High tension wires were down and the B&O's telephone system knocked out.
The injured were identified as Arden L. Bratley, 33, of Hammond; Grant L. Pease, also of Hammond; Cecil Ogilvie, Cedar Lake, Ind., and W. C. Roberts of Hammond.

Gen. MacArthur Makes Flying Visit To Korea

Declares Conflict In Korea Is Now War Of Maneuver

(BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur returned from a flying visit to Korea today and called the conflict a "war of maneuver" and dubbed the question of crossing the 38th Parallel "purely academic."

The five-star general made an official statement upon his return from the western front in Korea. He said the recent successes of the Eighth Army must not be overestimated.

He added:
"What the future has in store in Korea continues to be largely dependent upon international considerations and decisions not yet known here."

The supreme commander of United Nations troops in Korea said the Eighth Army in the past few weeks has achieved "local tactical successes through maximum exploitation of air's massive blows."

Must Not Overestimate
He warned however that we must not overestimate the importance of such successes.

Comparing the current optimism concerning the military campaign with the voices of calamity heard only a month ago, MacArthur said:

"We must not fall into the error of evaluating such tactical successes as decisively leading to the enemy's defeat, just as many erred in assessing our strategic withdrawal in the face of Communist China's commitment to the war as a decisive defeat inflicted upon us."

MacArthur declared the crossing of the 38th Parallel at the present stage of the campaign is a "purely academic" question.

War of Maneuver
"We are still engaged in a war of maneuver with the object of inflicting as heavy a punishment upon the enemy as possible, striving constantly to keep him off balance to prevent his obtaining and holding the tactical initiative (Continued on Page Two)

Dingley Is Named Pennsylvania Power Company Director

Paul G. Dingley, assistant to the president of Pennsylvania Power Company, was elected a director of the company at a meeting of the board of directors today.

Mr. Dingley has been associated with Pennsylvania Power Company and its affiliated companies during his entire business career. Following graduation from the University of Illinois in general engineering in 1925, he became a test engineer at the Toronto, Ohio, power plant of Pennsylvania-Ohio Power and Light Company, a predecessor of Ohio Edison Company.

The 'quake also was recorded at the Colaba observatory in Bombay.

Bing Crosby Is Recovering From Kidney Operation

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Feb. 13.—(INS)—Bing Crosby rested comfortably in St. John's hospital today after an operation for a kidney ailment.

His physician, Dr. F. C. Schlumberger, said the crooner should be out of the hospital in about 10 days.

The singer tried to keep yesterday's operation a secret. Among the members of his family, only his wife, Dixie, knew that it was going to be performed. However, after Crosby entered the hospital the news soon got out.

Industries In Columbia Are Closed Down

Shut For Duration Of Flood Emergency As Fire Precaution

COLUMBIA, Pa., Feb. 13.—(INS)—Industries in flood-stricken Columbia today were closed for the duration of the water famine which limits the borough's more than 12,000 residents to one quart a day.

Burgess Walter Royce said the move was designed to minimize the possibility of fire in the community which has been flooded since a plug of ice in the Susquehanna river sent water racing over the banks.

Earlier, he had granted re-opening privileges to industries which could operate without depending on the borough reservoir and which had an emergency supply of water to fight fire.

"The borough water situation is slightly improved and will continue to improve until the danger is passed if we conserve our supply," said Royce.

ESPIONAGE CHARGED

GENEVA, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The Swiss government lifted the secrecy surrounding the arrest of Charles Davis, an American Negro, today to say that he had been charged with "political espionage."

The Pasadena, Calif., resident was arrested on Nov. 29 at Carouge, a suburb of Geneva, on a warrant signed by Federal Magistrate R. Jeanneret of Neuchâtel which lies some 60 miles north of Geneva.

Authorities added that Davis had been living in Carouge since the end of 1949. They did not further clarify the charges.

Says Flying Saucers 'Undeniably Real'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—A navy spokesman says those flying saucers are "undeniably real" but they're actually huge plastic cosmic research balloons.

Dr. Urner Liddel, chief of the nuclear physics branch of the office of naval research, said that all reliable reports of the sighting of "flying saucers" in the past three and a half years were attributable to balloon discs called "skyhooks."

They were set up in great numbers with electronic instruments for studying cosmic rays and other phenomena of the atmosphere.

The project was kept secret, Dr. Liddel said, because it was connected with atomic development. But, said the scientist, "now there is no longer any need for secrecy on a scientific basis."

FIND STRAY VALENTINE

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 13.—(INS)—A stray Valentine turned up in the lost and found department of an Allentown department store two days ahead of St. Valentine's Day.

Max Hess, Jr., store executive, found a lost six-year-old boy weeping among the Valentine shoppers and asked his name.

"Dan Valentine," replied the tot.
His mother showed up a short time later to claim him and confirmed his name.
"But we always call him 'cupid'," she added.

New Castle Dollar Day Planned For Thursday

New Castle merchants again join in a cooperative sales effort, when Dollar Day will be observed in New Castle, Thursday, February 15.

The store-wide sales event provided by 44 hometown merchants, will mean considerable savings to those taking advantage of the reduced prices on winter goods, along with some new spring merchandise which has been arriving weekly in the city.

Anticipating that "ole man winter's" back is broken and that the district is due for a break in the weather, the merchants have purposely cut sharply into their margin of profit in order to present some fine opportunities to save money.

The first local cooperative Dollar Day, during Thursday's Dollar sales event of '51, should mean an avalanche of shoppers in the business districts, as customers fulfill (Continued on Page Two)

British-French Envoys Confer With Acheson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson conferred with the British and French ambassadors today, presumably on the issue of crossing the 38th parallel in Korea and a joint reply to Russia concerning a Big Four conference.

Sir Oliver Franks, the British envoy, and Henri Bonnet, the French ambassador, asked for the appointment with Acheson at 12 noon, EST.

The only announcement the State Department has made concerning crossing the 38th parallel came from spokesman Michael McDermott.

When asked whether "United Nations" forces will or will not cross the 38th parallel, he said "the United States government has this under consideration and is consulting other governments about it."

Civil Defense Program To Reach State Senate Today

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's civil defense package, minus a mandatory death penalty for convicted saboteurs, is slated to move into the Senate today where a storm is building up over confirmation of Gov. John S. Fine's cabinet selections.

The four bills comprising the package are scheduled for prompt consideration in the Senate after final House approval today.

A fifth bill, embracing the death penalty clause, was recommended to the judiciary committee where leaders indicated it would remain for the balance of the session.

Oppose Death Penalty
Labor leaders voiced strong opposition to the death penalty provision during a meeting with legislative officials yesterday.

House majority leader Charles C. Smith and minority leader Hiram G. Andrews, co-sponsors of the civil defense legislation, announced they will not ask that the controversial bill be reported to the floor.

Pennsylvania Federation of Labor president James L. McDermott said labor chiefs opposed the bill because possible (Continued on Page Two)

Chipyong Center Of New Assault By Red Forces

Huge Force Of Possibly 200,000 Reds May Be Involved

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, U. S. S.)

TOKYO, Feb. 14.—(Wednesday)—Assault troops of a possible 200,000-man Chinese and North Korean force renewed the Red offensive in central Korea Tuesday night with a furious attack on strategic Chipyong, 20 miles west of captured Hoengsong.

A dispatch from International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne at U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters said the Reds cut off Chipyong by a three-pronged attack, supported by either tanks or self propelled guns.

Enemy mortar shells were reported exploding in the city, which is located on the Wonju-Seoul railroad and is a key point in control of the vital central Korean corridor.

Drive Launched
Front line reports said the assault was launched at 10 p.m. (8 a.m. EST) from the southwest, followed by drives from the north and east.

The Chipyong battle exploded after Allied troops were forced out of Hoengsong to a new and undisclosed defense line where they braced for a possible mass attack by the estimated 200,000 enemy troops arrayed in the snow bound mountainous central sector.

A ten-mile Allied fanlike bulge north of the city was erased when the Reds hammered into Hoengsong, a vital highway junction. There were indications the Red offensive may develop into a repetition (Continued on Page Two)

'Frozen Woman' Still Critical But Will Survive

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Physicians at Chicago's Michael Reese hospital reported today that 23-year-old Mrs. Dorothy Mae Stevens survived the deepest freeze in medical history with no serious internal injuries.

The young woman—found in an alleyway five days ago with the unprecedented low body temperature of 64 degrees after a night of exposure to sub-zero temperatures—still is on the hospital's critical list.

But doctors said they are convinced she will live. Further tests will be made today to determine whether her arms and legs must be amputated.

Woman Found Dead Monday Evening

Mrs. May H. Stafford, aged 48 years, of 630 1/2 South Mill street, was found dead in her apartment at 8 o'clock Monday evening. Coroner Charles E. Allen who investigated the circumstances expressed the opinion that Mrs. Stafford's death was the result of a heart attack.

She had not been seen since Friday evening, and when her son Robert and residents of neighboring apartments could get no response, police were summoned. They broke down the door, and discovered Mrs. Stafford lying dead on the floor of the bathroom. It is believed that she expired sometime early Saturday morning.

Mrs. Stafford was born in Pittsburgh, May 12, 1902, daughter of Robert and Edna West Griggs. She lived here for 23 years and worked at the Shenango Pottery company.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Edna Griggs of Los Angeles, Calif.; her children: Robert and Frank Stafford, Jr., both of New Castle. She leaves her brothers and sisters: Charles, Earl and Robert Griggs, Los Angeles, Calif.; and Mrs. William Dempsey and Ida Mae Griggs of Los Angeles, Calif., and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 4 p.m., from the John Bigler funeral home, 1018 South Mill street. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home, this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Lewis Attends State Red Cross Meeting

L. J. Lewis, fund chairman of the 1951 Red Cross campaign drive, recently attended the Pennsylvania state Red Cross rally at Harrisburg.

The representatives of 110 chapters met to hear reports on civil defense preparation, the blood program, local and national and the history of the Red Cross.

A meeting slated for tonight by borough residents to demand similar action was postponed until later this week.

The southeastern Pennsylvania community lost its fresh water supply last Friday when a downstream movement of broken ice snagged on the unused foundation of a dam built 114 years ago to provide water for the system of canals which laced the area.

Glass-lined milk tankers carrying 3500 gallons each have been pressed into service to ferry water to Columbia from the Lancaster Water company's facilities 18 miles away. The water is rationed at corner stores.

So far, Columbia's residents have escaped any epidemic.

Proclamation

WHEREAS diseases of the heart and blood vessels constitute our nation's most important medical and public health problem in that they affect more persons than any other disease, lead all other diseases as a cause of death, and are a serious social and economic burden, and

WHEREAS the week including February 14 each year is being sponsored by the American Heart Association as American Heart Week for the purpose of focusing public attention on the medical, social and economic aspects of this primary health problem, and of reminding the nation that solution depends upon the fullest cooperation of the people, science, government and health and social agencies:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John F. Haven, mayor of the city of New Castle, Pa., do hereby proclaim that the week starting February 11, 1951, be observed in the city of New Castle, Pa., as American Heart Week. I further call upon schools, churches, scientific bodies, civic associations, business establishments and other organizations and the people of the city of New Castle, generally, to observe this American Heart Week with appropriate activities.

A 1942 state law carrying a maximum penalty of 10 years and $10,000 fine for convicted saboteurs will remain in effect, according to legislative leaders.

Highlights Business

Civil defense continued to highlight all other legislative business. No administration-backed bills made an appearance in either House yesterday.

The Senate, meanwhile, batted down the hatches for the fight expected today when Fine presents his cabinet appointees for confirmation.

The list is not expected to include the name of Charles J. Margiotti around whom swirls a peppy controversy as attorney general.

Neither Republicans nor Democrats have budged from the impasse created by Fine's insistence to retain Margiotti, an appointee of former Gov. James H. Duff.

The 20 Senate Democrats remain adamant in their position that they will sanction none of Fine's appointees unless Margiotti's name is included. Even if the 30-member GOP bloc votes solidly for the nominations, four Democratic votes will be needed.

while at the same time avoiding the hazards inherent in his numerical superiority."

MacArthur defended Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's mobile tactical campaign, calling Ridgway a "brilliant and worthy" successor to Gen. Walton Walker.

He said:

"The concept advanced by some that we should establish a line across Korea and enter into positional warfare is wholly unrealistic and illusive."

"It falls completely to take into account the length of such a line, the narrowest lateral, the rugged terrain which is involved and the relatively small force which could be committed to the purpose."

Would Insure Destruction

"The attempt to engage in such strategy would insure destruction of our forces piecemeal."

Again referring to the 38th Parallel, MacArthur pointed out that the principal aim of air power is to destroy the enemy in mobile imaginative campaign, giving only secondary thought to territory gained.

He added:

"From a military standpoint we must materially reduce the existing superiority of our Chinese Communist enemy engaging with impunity in unprecedented military advantage of sanctuary protection for his military potential against our counter-attack upon Chinese soil, before we can seriously consider conducting major operations north of that geographic line."

'Can Hold Them'

On the Western Korean Front, Feb. 13 — (INS) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme commander of the United Nations forces in Korea, flew to the battlefield today and declared that "we have enough manpower to hold them."

Without minimizing the seriousness of the situation caused by the giant Red offensive in Central Korea the five-star American general said:

"Real estate is a secondary issue. I think we have enough manpower to hold them while inflicting the greatest amount of casualties."

The supreme commander made his 10th flying visit to the Korean front and braved artillery and mortar fire on the south bank of the Han river below Seoul in western Korea.

He flew in his Constellation "Scap" to Suwon, 17 miles south of the front, and went to Kimp'o airport by jeep. He returned in a C-47 to Suwon after conferring with Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Eighth Army commander, and making a tour of the area.

On this tour the five-star general went to visit soldiers in a forward observation post within full view of the North Korean 17th Division across the Han.

Jose Ferrer topped the list of male nominees with his long-nosed portrayal of "Cyrano De Bergerac."

His strongest opposition is expected to come from James Stewart, who delighted audiences as the easy-going pal of the non-existent "Harvey," and Louis Calhern, whose Oliver Wendell Holmes rang the bell in "The Magnificent Yankee."

Other Nominations

The other nominations went to Spencer Tracy, the poor, bill-paying "Father of the Bride," and William Holden, the screen writer who was shot in "Sunset Boulevard."

Others besides "Eve" and "Sunset Boulevard" in the race for best production honors were "Born Yesterday," "Father of the Bride" and "King Solomon's Mines."

Thelma Ritter and Celeste Holm were the two "Eve" ladies who gained in the list of supporting actresses. The others were Josephine Hull, another believer in "Harvey"; Nancy Olson, energetic ingenue in "Sunset Boulevard," and Hope Emerson, the mean matron in "Caged."

George Sanders was the only "Eve" male nominated for an acting award. He headed a group of five males who will battle it out for supporting actor honors.

The others were Eric Von Stroheim, the former screen great brought back to prominence in "Sunset Boulevard"; Jeff Chandler, heroic Indian chief in "Broken Arrow"; Edmund Gwenn, the happy old money-maker in "Mister 880," and Sam Jaffe, master criminal in "The Asphalt Jungle."

Deaths Of The Day

Peter J. Bowers

Peter J. Bowers, aged 85 years, died at the home of his son, Charles H. Bowers, of 709 Croton avenue, this morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Bowers was visiting here with his son at the time of his death. He had been in this city a short time.

The deceased was a farmer by occupation and lived his entire life in Indiana county. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Emphfield Bowers died in 1929.

He was a member of the Lutheran church of Brush Valley, Pa. Surviving are his children: Mrs. A. Mitchell, Pittsburgh; Mrs. W. Longecore, Creekside, Pa.; Mrs. I. R. Overdoff, of Homer City, Pa.; Harold Bowers, Blacklick, Pa.; Charles H. Bowers, this city; and Clyde Bowers, of Marchand, Pa. He leaves 13 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

The body is at the DeCarbo funeral home, East Lutton at Cunninghamham. The body is being sent this afternoon to the Robinson Funeral home, Indiana, Pa. Burial will be in the Carol cemetery, Carol, Pa.

Mrs. Woods Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Fred E. Woods were conducted Monday at 2 p.m. from the R. L. Boyd funeral home with Dr. Will Gordon, interim pastor of First Baptist church, officiating.

Robert, Thomas and Fred Woods, J. Victor Hudson, James Wiener and William Barton were pallbearers.

Burial took place in Graceland cemetery.

Warnock Funeral Time

Funeral services for Elliott Swift Warnock, Miami, Fla., will be conducted Friday at 2:30 p.m. from the Cunningham funeral home, East Washington at Chestnut. Burial will take place in Oak Park cemetery.

The body will arrive in this city Wednesday at 6:59 p.m., when it will be removed to the funeral home, where friends may call Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Lodge of the Craft No. 433, F. and A. M. will conduct rites at the funeral home Thursday at 8 p.m.

Beck Funeral

Funeral services for William S. Beck were conducted Monday at 3:30 p.m. from the R. L. Boyd funeral home with Dr. R. F. Galbreath, of First Presbyterian church, officiating.

James Russell, Hugh and Alex Beck, Leonard Jewell, Milligan and John Cromie were pallbearers.

Burial took place in Oak Park cemetery.

tion of the fierce struggle for the Wonju sector waged in the first week of January.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme commander of the U.N. forces, made a flying visit to Korea and expressed the belief that the Communist-Chinese and North Koreans would be held.

The five-star general said:

"I think we have enough manpower to hold them while inflicting the greatest amount of casualties."

Casualties Were High

During the massive two-day offensive by the Reds which drove Allied troops out of the highway junction of Hoengsong Monday casualties were high on both sides.

An American divisional officer on the central front said the Reds suffered "big losses, mainly from artillery." He added that the "U.N. losses were heavier than they have been in a long time" but "not comparable to the Reds."

The Fifth Air Force was having its biggest day of the war against enemy vehicles.

The airmen destroyed more than 200 enemy vehicles with the count still incomplete as they struck columns north of the present battle front in what was described as "apparently a widespread build-up area."

Fifth Air Force Superfortresses dropped 88 tons of bombs on three bridges in far northeast Korea.

'War of Maneuver'

After MacArthur had returned to Tokyo from the Korean western front he praised the work of the Eighth Army and termed the Korean conflict "war of maneuver."

The supreme commander also called any question of crossing the 38th Parallel "purely academic."

Meanwhile the hard-pressed soldiers in the central sector were awaiting renewed assaults by the Reds. Eighth Army Headquarters reported no major action on the central front Tuesday although the regrouping forces were believed regrouping for new attacks.

The only ground action in the central sector since the U.N. troops were forced to give up the highway junction of Hoengsong Monday occurred when the Chinese marched toward the Wonju lateral road.

Aim at Big Push

Front line reports said the Chinese were moving in groups up to 1,000 during the day and there was increasing evidence the Reds aim to make a big push through the mountains of Chipyong.

In the western sector two enemy companies counter attacked along the Han river east of Seoul Tuesday afternoon against a U.N. battalion and the fight was still raging at last reports.

Turkish troops reported mortar and artillery fire from across the Han but the front was otherwise generally quiet.

British tanks, abandoned at the Imjin river last January, were fired into U.N. lines south of Seoul. The Communists had buried the tanks in sand up to their turrets on the north bank of the river and fired 150 rounds during the day.

Air strikes were called against the tanks.

MODIFICATION OF WAGE FREEZE TO BE CONSIDERED

considers this too low. The unions want a 12 per cent formula but industry holds this figure too high.

New Orders Made

While the tri-partite wage panel continued in a stalemate, the Office of Price Stabilization under the single-handed direction of Michael V. Disalle poured out a series of regulations relaxing the general price freeze.

The orders included:

1. Exemption of sugar from price controls at all levels. The Agriculture department will be relied on to keep sugar prices in line by adjusting import and marketing quotas to meet changes in consumer demands.

2. A rollback of prices on cottonseed, soybean and corn oils in order to keep prices at the present levels on such dinner table products as mayonnaise, shortening, margarine, salad oils and salad dressing.

3. Establishment of specific ceilings on green coffee, raw cocoa beans, soybeans and soybean oil meal. Soybean prices were rolled back about five cents a bushel while coffee and cocoa prices remain at about the same point as they were under the general freeze.

LOUISE CORNELIUS HONORED AT SHOWER

A large heart-shaped cake centered with a white candle and flanked with two large red candles featured the lovely table appointments at the shower event held Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Joanne Gordon, 819 Etna street, in honor of Miss Louise Cornelius.

The pre-nuptial festivity was held in the form of a personal shower. Cards were an entertaining pastime with high scores going to Miss Betty Lowery and Miss Jackie Kradel.

As an additional feature of the red and white Valentine arrangements, a miniature white fence surrounded the centerpiece. Tied to the fence posts were red streamers leading to each place card which was marked "Ted and Louise", February 23. Aids in serving were Miss Natalie Book and the hostess' mother, Mrs. Glenn Latimer.

HADASSAH MEMBERS WILL ATTEND EVENT

Honorary president of the New Castle Chapter of Hadassah, Mrs. L. F. Kohn, of 415 Park avenue, will attend as honored guest the H.M.O. function of the Pittsburgh Hadassah chapter on Thursday evening, February 15, at the William Penn Hotel.

Mrs. Kohn will sit at the speaker's table and will represent the Pittsburgh Hadassah chapter as past president.

Mrs. Irving Nixon, president of the New Castle Chapter of Hadassah has also been invited and will represent the local chapter. The Pittsburgh Chapter of Hadassah has been conducting a H.M.O. campaign and it will come to a successful close on Thursday.

READING CIRCLE HEARS OF LINCOLN

"Abraham Lincoln" was the theme of the program for the day when members of The Reading Circle met Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. Robert Mills, 324 Moody avenue.

Mrs. Brant Sankey presided over the business meeting, then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Henry Stone who was in charge of the program. Mrs. Stone told of Re-bild Park, which is a memorial to Abraham Lincoln in the country of Denmark.

Mrs. Stone then presented Mrs. T. L. Nixon whose topic was "The Customs of Lincoln's Day." Mrs. Nixon read portions of newspapers printed at that time, which were most interesting. Mrs. Edward McNamara was next on the program, her topic being "Songs of Lincoln's Day." Several songs which were popular during Lincoln's day were enjoyed by the group, with Mrs. McNamara telling of the music of that period.

Roll call was answered by "What I Admire Most About Lincoln." Special guests for the day were Mrs. B. F. Steinbrink, Mrs. A. Culmer Schultz, and Mrs. Ross Smith, of Pittsburgh.

B.P.W. MEMBERS PLAN INITIATION

New Castle Business and Professional Women's club will have a dinner meeting Wednesday evening, February 14, at 5:45 o'clock in First Methodist church.

The membership committee, of which Miss Charlotte Emery is chairman, is responsible for the program, the theme being "Measure Up for Initiation." New members who have joined the club during the past year will be initiated at an appropriate ceremony, Miss Myrna Kelley will serve as the evening's soloist.

Four technicians from the Red Cross will type the blood of the members at the meeting Wednesday.

N.W. Club Gathers

Members of the N.W. club gathered at the home of Jean McCoy, 301 Hamilton apartments, on a recent evening, with two tables of five hundred as the diversion. Prizes for high scores were awarded to Alice Walther, Jean McCoy and Dorothy McGivern.

The new members drew secret sister names, with Mary McGivern and Doris Leslie later assisting the hostess in serving a delicious lunch. The Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations. Mary McGivern of 300 Hamilton apartments will entertain club members in her home February 23.

CHEAPNESS OF LIFE

Human life is one of the world's cheapest commodities. No longer is the public shocked by reports of mass death. Scores killed in a railway accident. Dozens dying in a plane crash. Thousands killed every year by automobiles. Murder on every hand. To say nothing of the thousands who die in war.

This is in direct contrast to the continued efforts of medical scientists to lengthen the span of human existence. Millions are being expended, in research and study, to eliminate the causes of disease. Thousands of earnest men are spending their lives in research laboratories, seeking new remedies to combat the ills of human flesh.

So long as human life is held cheaply there will be no peace among the peoples of the world, and man will miss his ultimate destiny.

WILL EISENHOWER BE ABLE TO RUN

Republican leaders from strongly pro-Eisenhower areas in the west and northwest report that the only question now in their minds is whether "Ike" will be free of his European defense job in time to accept a GOP presidential nomination in 1952. However, there is little concern about this question in top Republican circles in Washington.

Those close to both the military and political situation say that there is "no reason"—barring an outbreak of war in Europe—why Eisenhower at the end of this year cannot turn his command over to someone else and report to all nations concerned that the defense organization is set up and a "going concern."

Then he could return to civilian life in early 1952 and be an "available" candidate for the presidential race.

PROPAGANDA AND TACKS

Two out-of-the-ordinary kinds of air missions being flown these days by air force pilots in Korea may stimulate renewed argument over the respective merits of direct and indirect warfare.

One lucky pilot is enjoying what to many would be a boyhood dream come true—he's scattering tacks, thousands of them, over the roads used by trucks of the Chinese Reds. It's all sanctioned by his superiors, too. The idea is that the trucks will get flat tires, stop and hold up the trucks behind, and all will become sitting duck targets for the machinegun and rocket attacks of more conventionally equipped planes.

Another pilot is throwing words at the Chinese, through a loud speaker attached to his plane. Last time out he had a Chinese-speaking interpreter attack the morale of the Reds by reminding them that this was the Chinese New Year, and it would be better to be at home. Presumably in China New Year's Day isn't associated with that morning-after feeling common in other countries, and the appeal had its effect.

As between the two, "Operation Tack" will appear preferable, since its results can be seen immediately. But propaganda has its uses, too, and it is reassuring that the air force is neglecting neither kind of warfare in its campaign to make things tough for the Reds.

NEW ALLY: TYPHUS

Typhus fever is reported to be epidemic in Red ranks in Korea, accomplishing the same objective as U.S. guns, bayonets and shells.

And while the dread disease—reported as always more prevalent in winter—is taking lives on the Communist side, U.S. troops are free of the disease because of the usual precautions and the use of typhus vaccine.

If credit for U.S. safety can go to one man, it is to Maj. Gen. Edgar Erskine Hume, chief of MacArthur's medical officers. General Hume was responsible for American anti-typhus action in North Africa and Italy during World War II. And his policy of prevention was scrupulously followed through in Korea.

Typhus is not a new foe to the soldier—and it respects no flag or rank. A virus disease, usually transmitted by body lice, it has sometimes been called "war fever" because it breaks out among great armies that are not protected against it. Recent epidemics occurred in European concentration camps and among the German armies on the Russian front in World War II.

The fever comes on suddenly. It reaches a crisis on the fourteenth day, and if death does not occur recovery is slow, adding more difficulties to an army that must therefore maintain large convalescent hospital facilities.

In time of peace the hearts of Americans go out to people victimized by wholesale typhus epidemics. In 1915, for example, the American Red Cross mobilized huge resources that finally wiped out a terrific typhus epidemic in Serbia.

But in Korea U.S. troops, secure against the disease, look upon "General Typhus" as a kind of ally—not a desirable ally but one that does threaten the superior manpower that is the enemy's best weapon.

Those Nevada explosions were heard for great distances and their echo carried to Moscow.

Since all of us are plenty tired of winter by this time, how come they don't spell the current month—"Februeary"?

Americans spend an average of $400 million a year on foreign travel. That Yankee Dollar certainly isn't an old stick-in-the-mud stay-at-home!

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Unique German Leader

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's plans to integrate the German federal republic in the defense of western Europe has brought to the forefront a man of unique qualifications—soldier, philosopher, author and teacher.

He also is a man who fought for Adolf Hitler while plotting against him. His name is Gen. Hans Speidel and he has every right to put the title professor before or after his military title if he so desires. For Speidel was lecturing on philosophy at the University of Tübingen when Chancellor Dr. Konrad Adenauer felt that he would be of greater value for his military wisdom than for his classroom dissertations.

Speidel was best known during the world war of 1939-1945 as the chief of staff to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in attempted defense of the German west wall against collapse under allied hammerblows after the Normandy invasion.

Served With Rommel He also had served with Rommel in Africa as well as in the first world war and is known as an enthusiastic admirer of the so-called "Desert Fox."

It was on the European battlefield, however, that Speidel is reputed to have lost faith in Hitler as commander after a number of poor military decisions on the Fuehrer's part sealed the fate of the German armies. He became involved in an assassination plot against Hitler that came close to succeeding.

The 53-year-old Speidel was suspected after the plot failed and arrested by the Gestapo. He saved himself from summary execution by lucid self-defense and later escaped from an internment camp. Selection of Speidel as chief military adviser to the federal government, which presumably is acceptable to Gen. Eisenhower, came as no surprise.

His attainments in the field of philosophy are believed to have rendered him especially suitable for the post.

Faces Enormous Problems He is faced with enormous psychological problems affecting German youth, German sentiment, German traditions and German emotions—plus precisely the same factors with regard to the western nations which twice in a generation were crushed beneath a German military heel.

Thus far, he has made few public statements on his policies. He has preferred to play a waiting game.

The same, however, is true of the allies.

They are probing into the German military potential and are waiting to hear just what Speidel and Adenauer have to offer in the way of contributions to western European defense.

Speidel is anxious to know what concessions the allies will make to Germany for the sacrifices and risks inherent in rearmament.

Because of his vast military and intellectual experience, Speidel probably is little surprised that the matter of incorporating Germany in the western defense system has sprung open a Pandora's box of problems and difficulties.

Russia Makes Issue

Soviet Russia, as expected, insists upon making it the main issue with regard to any new big four conference.

Latest word from Berlin tells of another chessboard move by the Russians.

They plan to bring Soviet combat units stationed in Germany up to full strength as the first answer to the western plans.

Then, when and if the big four conference develops, they will again propose removal of all occupation forces. But they have made clear they consider the Elbe river the main line of Soviet defense in the west and that no future deployment of Russian troops will change this situation.

Of the eventual German defeat in eastern Europe in the second world war, Speidel has been quoted as saying with utmost simplicity: "Too many Russians." This same numerical superiority prevails today. But if Speidel is going to be accepted as a military consultant with the west on a frank, honest and equal basis, he should be in a position to contribute much sound advice—and he may be the man to inspire to action a Germany that is still languid in a remilitarized world.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

THE YOUNGSTER WHO IS NERVOUS

There are a lot of nervous jittery children under 15 years of age. According to a recent investigation reported from Pennsylvania State College, over half the many children studied were described as nervous, nail-biting being the most frequent symptom reported.

As you and I casually observe children of various ages, we notice that they differ widely in the number of movements they make for no apparent purpose, some of these movements specialized as biting the nails; fingering over the face; picking or pulling at parts of it; twisting a lock of hair; tugging at ears; biting parts of the clothing; chewing a pencil. There's the school child whose hands and feet must be going almost constantly, handling or drumming with some small object or grimacing according to a pattern commonly called "habit spasms" or "tics."

At two or five the highstrung nervous child rarely walks even indoors but rushes headlong, often falling over things and bumping into them. He rarely attends long at a stretch to anything, but flits from one object of interest to another. This child may often whine and cry or have a serious demeanor most of the time, rarely smiling. He or the older highstrung child may nearly always speak loudly and with a high-pitched voice.

Though we can hardly expect a normal child from two to five, while awake, to sit still for as long as five minutes at a stretch (unless absorbed as when listening to a story), we might reasonably expect the normal, healthy child of school age, especially during adolescence, to lead occasionally a useful movementless period, without signs of useless movements.

Blinking Eyes "Dear Dr. Myers: Please send in the enclosed stamped envelope your pamphlet on 'Nail Biting and Other Nervous Habits.' I hope that includes blinking eyes. I have a little two-year-old great-grandson who has just begun doing that and we are very concerned. The doctor says it's jealousy. It's hard for me to accept that, because I don't see how any child could be given more love and attention than yours has. I hope he does have a one-year-old brother, who does demand a lot of attention."

In substance here is how I wrote this great-grandmother: Obviously, that little child is under a tense emotional strain. His feeling of being not loved enough because of the baby could be a cause, but it's probably only one of the causes. The parents and others should go on giving ample attention and affection to this older child, often cuddling him, smiling at him, talking tenderly and softly to him, listening attentively to what he has to say, answering all his questions, walking out of doors with him, doing things with him, reading to him. Encourage him to have fun with his toys and crayons and to enjoy his crude creations with them. Try to induce all other relatives and friends to help build this boy up and to make him feel secure.

Very important that his parents and all other adults in his presence are companionable, cheerful and serene and speak in quiet voices; that the radio or television set is rarely or never going while he is awake.

State Police Say:

In the 289 traffic accidents investigated state police in Lawrence county last year, 128 persons were killed and 225 were injured. One person was killed per every 16 accidents, and an injury occurred in every 1.33 accidents. Property damage amounted to an estimated $176,808, or an average $618 per accident.

Questions And Answers

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

It has been called to my attention that perhaps the most successful newspaper women in the world is Dorothy Dix.

She makes millions and millions. People write her and ask her opinion and she writes back and gives her opinion.

Since I became a columnist I must have had ten thousand letters at least, from people who wanted advice and I never answered one of them, but I want to start answering them right now.

Q. "Dear Henry: I am a 32-year-old woman from Shreveport. I am married to a man whom I don't like. How can I get rid of him?"

A. Shoot the guy. Q. "I am 17 years old and my mother does the Charleston better than I do. She tells me that she danced the Charleston as a girl. Should I break her leg so she can't do the Charleston?" A. Don't send me any letters that I have to pay postage on. "How Old Are You?"

Q. "I am 103 years old and nowhere can I find the Bonnie Blue flag of Dixie. I live in New York and when I go down Park avenue I find the flag of the Russians flying above the building where Mr. Malik lives. How old are you?"

A. I think as long as Mr. Malik is an accepted member of the United Nations the flag of his country should fly outside the hotel in which he lives. I'm 27 and an outstanding football coach.

Q. "My cat never sleeps. Do you know anything about how to put a cat to sleep?"

A. What color is your cat? Gray cats sleep better than black cats. Small cats sleep more than big cats. A Siamese will always outsleep a Manx, and a Persian will always outsleep a Siamese. Let me have full details, please.

Q. "My husband is very jealous of me."

A. You lucky, lucky woman. Q. "I am 43 years old and can't ice skate. What do you suggest?"

A. Skates. Q. "When I was 19 years old"

we've got another five per cent investigation under way, but I understand the rates are higher now.

The last one was a tremendous success... After all the testimony of favors and favoritism was in, General Vaughan was assured of employment to 1952.

He and Acheson solved the problem of social security... If you want to be guaranteed government employment, either get investigated or attacked.

I don't know why we should complain about Acheson anyway. His employer is satisfied with him and the employer has the contract and there's no cancellation clause.

Anyway it's nice to know that Mr. Truman doesn't believe anybody with White House connections has been influencing RFC loans. And anybody who doesn't agree with him better just stand back from the mail slot.

It's high time we understood that when he has spoken he has spoken.

NEW YORK—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey: "Anyone who thinks you can defend the U. S. or any substantial portion of the world with any two of the three branches of the armaments is ignoring every lesson of history."

NEW YORK—Lt. Col. Leslie Thompson, postmaster at Camp Gordon, Ga.: "Valentines will certainly be a morale factor in camp because any communication a serviceman gets from a wife or sweetheart is invaluable."

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Friends are important... for without friends life just wouldn't be worth living... they bring joy with their visits... they may bring sadness... but true friends are always welcome, for their problems are of interest and worthy of help... in good weather or foul.

Acquaintances are important too... a brief talk over the phone... or a moment on the street when the world affairs or personal interests are discussed is worthy of serious cultivation... Often-times people send in articles... which say in a few words ideas that have been floating around for months in our conversation... here is an example... we thank M. H. for thinking of this column.

WHAT IS IT? "It pays most of the rates and taxes. It provides most of the jobs. It has always done most to raise wages. It has given us all our factories and shops. It has built our ships and railroads. It develops inventors and business builders. It originated the principles of efficiency. It has done most to lower costs and prices. It created the whole structure of business. It alone can raise our standard of living. It is the Hope of the human race."

Y. E. T. "Karl Marx said it must be destroyed... It is Private Enterprise."

And we like the words of Thomas Jefferson for a closing line... "How little our countrymen know what precious blessings they are in possession of and which no other people on earth enjoy."

Only Half Of Ike Was Used

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—Gen. Eisenhower's report on Europe might have been epoch-making, but it was not—and there are some reasons why not.

This column is based on a private interview with a Senate who attended Eisenhower's closed door session before the joint meeting of the Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees. The Senator, who intends to make a major speech on the subject sometime in the future, says that:

Eisenhower, very weary by the length of the questioning period, could not add much to the generalities of hope and confidence which he expressed in public. Only when somebody asked about the possible use of Greece, Turkey, Spain and Yugoslavia in the defense of Europe did Ike's "eyes light up" and did he speak with real "fervor and conviction." None of these countries, of course, is a member of the North Atlantic Alliance. But on this subject Ike was asked:

"General, does your concept of duty preclude your saying to the country what you have just said to this committee? Can you tell the United States how much these non-Treaty nations are needed?"

And Eisenhower replied: "I am a soldier. That is impossible."

What Does This Mean To America? It means that we are not being allowed to have the full benefit of Eisenhower's great personality and knowledge. It was suggested in this column, before Ike's return, that he be authorized to take off his uniform and come before the Congress and country as an expert witness with no strings attached. But this was not authorized and, as the Senator put it:

"Eisenhower can only talk in the role of a soldier. He is not permitted to speak as a soldier-statesman, something we all know him to be. And if Ike cannot speak as a soldier-statesman, the whole matter of statesmanship as referred back to the President and Secretary Acheson."

But that is where we all came in. That is also why Ike said substantially the same thing before he went to Europe as he said when he got back. He said "hope" for peace. Nothing is "impossible" if Western Europe will put a united heart into the defense effort. He was not able to give much in the way of facts, statistics, firm agreements or solid assurances. He left the impression, at least on one Senator's mind, that his recent report was only intended to be a preliminary one and that he'd come back with the facts in a follow-up report, probably some six months from now.

Little In Way Of Solid Assurance

Yet it is improbable that the Supreme Commander of the North Atlantic Alliance—so long as he serves as a simple soldier—can ever get much in the way of solid assurance. He is the military agent of 12 different foreign offices, anyone of which may have to renege on a deal or find it impossible to deliver its well-intended promises. It is quite evident, for example that France's military contribution to Europe will depend upon the fortunes of war in Indochina. Likewise the British effort may turn upon the outcome of battles in Malaya. It is even possible that our own commitments in Korea and the Asian mainland may alter our plans to aid in Europe.

For these reasons—since he cannot speak in terms of international politics—Ike has not changed many minds on Capitol Hill. Those who always believed in the defense of Europe, still believe. Those who never did believe in it, still don't believe. Those who were on the fence are still fence-sitting.

One Congressman, in fact, is presently toying with the notion of asking for a non-governmental commission to retrace Ike's European journey and bring back still another report. The commission as first discussed, would be appointed by the majority and minority leaders of both houses and would be entirely civilian. The name of Hanson Baldwin, military critic of the N. Y. Times, was mentioned. Other lay members were to cover industrial and foreign political matters. But there is little chance that anything will come of the suggestion. Past experience is such that Capitol Hill is not sanguine about getting an "unpacked" jury. Many law-makers are so set in their thinking that no jury could make them change their minds.

All told, we are exactly where we began several months ago. Even the glitter of Eisenhower's name has not added much luster to the Administration's tarnished reputation for sound judgment. Congress is not likely to unite in bipartisanship until the Administration changes its spots—or until the Russians fire the first shot.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Russia will attack us this April. Russia will attack us in 1952. Russia is afraid of us and will not attack us at all.

Russia has more A-bombs than we have. Russia hasn't A-bombs. It's going to be cold and cloudy tomorrow.

It's going to be fair and warmer tomorrow. There will be no rationing in the near future.

There will be rationing within sixty days, and the ration books are already printed and ready for distribution. Acheson will resign next week. Acheson will be fired next month. Acheson will stay in office.

By the time this appears in print some of the above predictions may already have come true. If you make enough predictions, some of them are bound to come true, particularly if they are sufficiently contradictory and mixed up.

Never in the history of America were there so many experts as now. The radio is crawling with experts. Congress is overflowing with them. They point their fingers at you from the television screen. They tell themselves to be interviewed and quoted the moment they step off the plane or a boat after a four-day visit to Europe or Asia.

Everybody knows what Stalin is thinking about. What Mao intends to do, what Nehru is going to eat for breakfast day-after-tomorrow. Everybody has inside information about what's going on in Truman's mind, what Eisenhower is going to say long before he has said it.

You noticed that in my predictions I also inserted the weather. That's just about how reliable all these predictions are—or, wait a minute. My apologies to the weatherman. At least he has instruments and charts and experience on his side.

There is only one element most of these amateur predictors of things to come have borrowed from the weather man—WIND.

The weather man at least has studied the wind. These predictors just blow it, let it drift where it may.

In the meantime we "non-experts" are bewildered. We are mixed up to the point where we can't plan anything.

We are surrounded by a lot of weather vane, each of them pointing in a different direction. What is the answer?

Let us think for ourselves. Let us disregard all those blowings and meanderings and mental peregrinations of a lot of windbags, and let us be pioneers—pioneers of thought, of action, of behavior. The "experts" don't know any more than you and I. Yesterday's bank-breaking, baby-kissing country lawyer does not become an authority on international affairs or economics just because you have sent him to Washington.

His Principal concern is not Russia or Korea but YOUR VOTE. How then are you going to plan? I'll give you a simple rule. It's an old rule, but it has always worked: HOPE FOR THE BEST. EXPECT THE WORST. BE READY FOR ANYTHING.

Signs Of Chinese New Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—A box of lichi nuts, only a little delayed by the railroad strike, has just arrived at the home of a Chinese family in Boise, Idaho, to remind them that the Chinese new year—the year of the golden rabbit, 4649—has arrived and a suitable celebration is indicated.

I grew up in the firm belief that Chinese new year was a hundred million times as exciting as the regular new year. On regular new year's eve, we children were put to bed early and our parents and aunts and uncles, in formal dress, went to the annual charity ball, and the next day most of the grownups were cross as two sticks!

Things Were Different
But on Chinese new year things are different! Then Uncle Charles and Uncle Horace took us children down to see the dragon parade through the streets. It was the most beautiful dragon in the world and almost a block long, or so it seemed to me.

And how it danced and pranced through the streets as the young Chinese inside it wove from one side of the street to another. The grown folks' new year certainly had nothing to compare with this, although I do remember when I was eight or ten Uncle Horace mysteriously telling a neighbor that the snakes had been almost as big after the charity ball.

Then there was the new year's—Chinese, naturally—when a long war was terrifying every Chinatown in the nation, including Boise's. The Chinese colony had about decided to abandon the new year's day parade and leave the dragon in storage.

But this was unthinkable to the rest of Boise, which held the Chinese celebration in those days in the same high regard as New York does Macy's Thanksgiving parade. So three of Boise's most important, business men volunteered to help man the dragon.

They figured that as long as a trio of city fathers was spotted among the Chinese cavorting inside the dragon, no tong assassin would be so impulsive or uncouth as to turn his sawed-off shotgun on the parade.

Famous For Manners
The Chinese are famous for their manners and the parade went off without incident, since the town had judged correctly that a tong killer who went about his business under those circumstances would be thrown out of his union.

But these were adult matters. What was important to us children was first, the dragon, and second, the great, lovely, wonderful string of firecrackers with which the Chinese decked the telephone poles in their section of Boise.

No matter how indulgent our parents were on the Fourth of July, none of us ever saw or heard as many firecrackers as the Chinese set off on their new year. Great strings of lady firecrackers—the little ones that made such a big bang—ran up and down the telephone poles, with what seemed overwhelming largesse and grandeur to us kids.

I suppose everyone who grew up in western mining country as I did grew up in the belief that the Chinese were indigenous to the locale. They were part and parcel of the mining country, as any student of Bret Harte knows.

Had Chinese Friends
Everyone in Boise had his Chinese friends who came at the new year with gifts of lichi nuts, Chinese candy, rare teas and little pots of Chinese lilies in fragrant bloom. In those days, the lady of the house could always find time to give Louie, the vegetable man, or Johnny, the laundryman, a lesson in the three R's, if she thought he was unable to read or write English.

Louis was just naturally so polite he never had the heart to tell the good ladies that he was a graduate of a San Francisco high school. They simply thought he was a wonderful student.

Those were the good old days when a war with China was simply unthinkable. One might have to fight the Germans, but the Chinese, never! And the sons of Louis and Johnny Fat who runs the Chinese restaurant, were all in the U. S. Air Corps in the last war.

I don't know how I got started on this, except for the lichi nuts. Anyway, Happy New Year. Happy year of the golden rabbit, 4649. And the hell with Mao.

ATHENS—(INS)—The population of Greece stands a good chance of passing the 8,000,000 mark about the time of the scheduled national census next April, Marshall Plan statisticians predicted today. The census experts conceded that the prediction is at best only an "informed guess," because accurate population statistics have not been available in Greece for many years.

Closing Of Part Of Deshon Hospital Opposed By Council

E. Gene Schweinsberg on Monday sponsored a motion in Council meeting expressing the city's opposition to the federal government's plan to close Deshon Veterans hospital at Butler to all excepting tuberculosis patients. The vote was unanimous.

Schweinsberg said that it would play havoc with local ex-servicemen in need of attention.

He said they would be ordered to report to Aspinwall, which he maintains is now overcrowded.

It was decided to forward a communication expressing the city's opposition to Congressman Louis Graham (who already is on record as opposed to the change), U. S. Senator James Duff and state officials.

Careless Talk

There is a valuable maxim few of us consider and most of us should bring to mind daily: "Don't talk until you think."

We are prone to say things thoughtlessly that hurt, irritate or embarrass others. If we only stop to think before speaking, few of us would be guilty of unkind statements that make us unpopular. If we thought beforehand, we would never be guilty of such blunt statements as "you are wrong" when someone with whom we disagree speaks. Think first and you will, instead, courteously say "perhaps you are right, but I think so and so..." This technique should be adopted even when you know you are right and the other person is wrong. It is far better to let an error pass than commit a worse one with your rudeness. Courteous people are never too definitely emphatic in their opinions.

Express yourself, certainly, but with restraint and consideration for those whose opinions differ from your own.

Unless you are having a conversation with intimate friends, avoid controversial subjects, such as religion and politics. And if you find yourself talking to someone whose views are completely opposed to your own, try to turn the conversation into more agreeable topics.

To quote Johnathan Swift: "One of the best rules of conversation is never to say a thing which anyone of the company can reasonably wish we had left unsaid."

Question: My fiancé has purchased a new home for us. (We will be married soon). It is completely furnished with the exception of cooking utensils and linens. Should I remind him of these items or must I supply them?

Answer: It is your duty to supply these. It is the least you can do.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13.—Susan Hayward says she is a pushover for sweet talk and that everything anybody has heard about redheads being hot-tempered is the gospel truth.

The star of Fox's new Biblical epic, "David and Bathsheba," declares that she has got plenty of temperament and temper, mainly because she is a redhead, and she is not ashamed of either.

"Redheads aren't a bit like any other breed of girls," says Susan, who has been red-haired all her life. "We are more volatile, quicker to blow up and harder to get along with. We are extremely touchy and unless we are approached in the proper manner, we won't play."

Pretty Good Example
Susan insists that you can take her for an example. She insists that she is a sucker for anyone who comes along offering her honey instead of vinegar.

"But if someone comes along with a chip on his shoulder, I'm against them pronto. I'm a push-over for the honeyed treatment—if it is sincere."

Diplomacy, tact and tears, most famous of women's weapons, can be short-cut by redheads, says Susan. They can just be brutally honest, she declares.

"A temperamental gal saves a lot of time," continues Susan, "she saves a lot of wear and tear on both her own and other people's emotions. She is a lot healthier in mind and body. It is a healthy thing to blow up occasionally when there is good cause for it. It's a lot better than being the brooding, moody type, who seethes inwardly or weeps outwardly without telling why she is wailing for fear someone won't like her as much."

"After all, the psychologists have been saying 'get it off your chest' for years. The redhead does it in a hurry. It's the people who never blow up who wind up paying the piper—or rather, the psychiatrist."

SPECIAL SHOWING

They had a special showing of "Valentino" for Dita Flame, "The Lady in Black" who each year on the anniversary of Rudolph Valentino's death puts poses on his tomb.

Dita thought that Tony Dexter was great in the picture but that he lacked the warmth and feeling of Rudy. Dita left the projection room in tears just before the death scene and never did see the end of the picture.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13.—Ruth Roman's curves, according to the man who has been draping them recently, are the most interesting to reach the Hollywood sound stages in a decade.

Mijo Anderson, the designer for Warner Brothers, studio, claims Ruth is proportioned exactly as a girl ought to be. The designer is dressing Miss Roman for her role as a dancehall cutie in "Tomorrow is Another Day." He raves:

"Ruth is a stunning example of the full-blown, shapely woman of 1951—and considerably different from the clothes-rack ladies that used to be so popular."

"She will be the sexiest woman the screen has exhibited since the time of Jean Harlow."

Everybody Happy
Anderson is surrounding Roman with yards of fringe and yards of sleek satin, all costumes with no back and no shoulders.

"All I can say is that I am glad that Ruth is shaped the way she is," says Anderson, "because otherwise it would be pretty tough to get away with the costumes she is about to wear."

Anderson said the vogue for lean ladies of hollow cheeks and boyish hips is rapidly being overtaken by a gratifying return to the hippy, bosomy woman of yesterday.

"Not too hippy, of course," the authority says. "But women are at least beginning to recognize the fact again that they are not supposed to be shaped like men. They are allowing their natural roundness to show a little bit, which is an encouraging sign."

SOMBER TRAGEDY

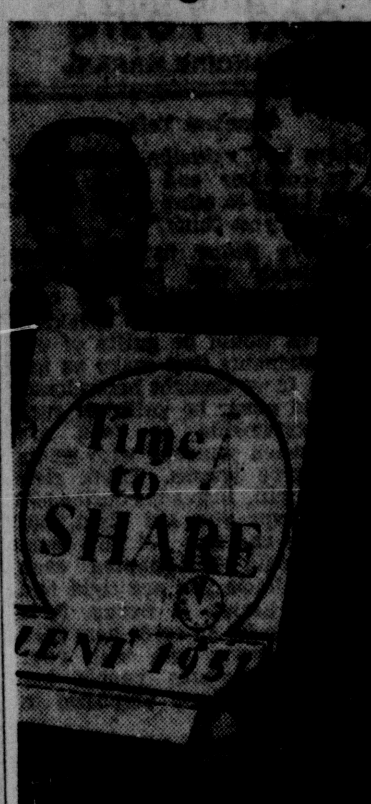

They are busy putting the musical score to "A Place in the Sun," Paramount's second version of Dreiser's "An American Tragedy," weeks after its second preview.

Franz Waxman has written original music for the somber tragedy that stars Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor and Shelley Winters. The picture was acclaimed at both previews—so much so that it will be released in the fall to qualify for the 1951 academy awards.

When the picture was previewed an improvised musical score was used from the studio's well-stocked morgue of mood music labeled under such tags as: jealousy, stam-pede, action, love, passion, etc.

The love scenes between Clift and his two leading ladies are the talk of preview audiences.

Aid Refugee Relief

DUMAGUETE CITY, Philippines.—The city council of Dumaguete City recently turned down the petition of city plumbers for what they termed a "measly" monthly bicycle allowance of five pesos. The austerity-minded council, approached by the city auditor on behalf of the plumbers, replied that the auditor ought to know better: no funds.

DAY OF PRAYER SERVICE

Members of the various churches of the community gathered at the Oak Grove United Presbyterian on Friday evening and held a "World Day of Prayer" service.

Mrs. Dick Dean, president of the Council of Church Women of the district, was in charge of the program. An interesting playlet was given by Mrs. Ted Armstrong, Mrs. Robert George, Mrs. Tom Shelar, Miss Evelyn Gibson, Mrs. Gerald Harlan and Mrs. Ayers, with Mrs. Audrey McClymonds in charge, and Mrs. Harrison furnishing the organ music. Two lovely selections were sung by Mrs. Bishop and Everett McCracken, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. McElwain. Rev. Kossick, minister of Princeton Presbyterian church, was speaker.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Young Ladies' Missionary society of Reformed Presbyterian church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. John Young of Princeton. Mrs. Clarence Wilson, president, was in charge of the business meeting. Arrangements were made for each member to give at least one article to the aged people's home in Pittsburgh. Used Christmas cards are to be given to Miss Anna Blair to be sent to the new mission in Japan. Plans were made for the work committee to purchase the necessary material to start a triple "Irish chain" quilt. Mrs. Donald Allen was in charge of the devotional period. The topic for the evening was "Spread Christianity Through the W. M. S." Discussions on the topic were given by Miss Rose Munnell, Mrs. Harry McElwain and Miss Mary Jane Wilson. Special prayer was given by Mrs. Melville Martin. Miss Pearl Young gave the mission study. At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Donald Allen, Mrs. Martha Weigle and Mrs. Kossick were special guests.

RELIGIOUS PROGRAM

Several ministers of the community gathered in the auditorium of the Princeton high school Friday afternoon and held a "World Day of Prayer" service for the benefit of the pupils. Rev. Ayers of Oak Grove church gave the opening prayer. Rev. Kossick of Princeton church read the Scripture. Rev. Melville Martin of the Rose Point church gave the message of the afternoon. His theme was "It Is No Secret What God Can Do." He used colored pictures to illustrate the highlights of his talk and to instill in every person present the necessity of prayer.

CHURCH SERVICES

Reformed Presbyterian church:

Sabbath school, 11 a. m.; Carl McElwain, supt.; Ralph Wilson, assistant supt.; church, 12 to one o'clock. Rev. Melville Martin, pastor.

The Rainbow Missionary society of Oak Grove church will meet with Mrs. Charles Myers of the Harbor road Wednesday, Feb. 21. Mrs. Hazel Allison is scheduled to be the leader.

ROSE POINT NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grodecur and children, Evelyn Marie and Bill, and Mrs. Donald Allen and son, Jack, were Sunday evening supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell King of the Ellwood road.

Mr. and Mrs. Weller McClymonds and family were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Baldwin and daughter, of the Butler road.

Little Linda McElwain is still on the convalescence list at her home.

Mrs. Donald Allen was a visitor Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Mildred Waring and family of the Butler road.

It is reassuring, when you buy a Cadillac, to know that you yourself will make the decision as to how long you wish to keep it—and how far you wish to drive it. The car will be at your service throughout your pleasure.

Give it reasonable care and reasonable usage, and there is no practical limit to a Cadillac's utility. Authenticated records show various Cadillacs well into their second five hundred thousand miles of service.

Of course, the original owner seldom has any requirement for such exceptional mileage. Being progressive, he wishes to change his cars sufficiently often to keep reasonable pace with Cadillac's advancement in design and appearance.

But he benefits, all the same, from this wonderful capacity for service. It means that, month after month and year after year, his Cadillac performs magnificently—with the minimum of care and attention.

The great Cadillacs for 1951, now gracing America's streets and highways, are built in the finest traditions of Cadillac quality. If you have not inspected them, you ought to do so. We'd be happy to see you—at any time.

We are sorry indeed that delay in delivery of new Cadillacs continues unavoidable. Not only is the demand beyond all precedent, but much of the company's materials must, of necessity, be allocated to defense production. Thousands of Cadillac's craftsmen are already engaged in this effort. If you are waiting for a Cadillac, please be patient—but hold to your purpose. There is no substitute for the "Standard of the World."

PUT VEGETABLES IN OVEN WHEN YOU BAKE MEALS

Boiling vegetables is such an accepted cooking practice that many homemakers overlook the possibilities of cooking them in the oven while other foods are baking or broiling. Most frozen vegetables are excellent when they are baked. They also require less attention than when you cook them on top of the range.

Put the frozen block of vegetables into a glass baking dish. Season with salt, pepper, butter, or bits of bacon. Some vegetables may need a little water to keep them from sticking, but most of them will cook in their own juice if a lid is put over the casserole.

When the block thaws partly, break it up with a fork or speed cooking. Remove the cover the last few minutes to evaporate most of the excess juice. Serve vegetables in the baking dish to save dishes and time.

Spinach, corn, mashed squash, and egg plant are best heated without water. They will usually cook in a half-hour. Lima beans may take up to an hour to bake; snap beans, broccoli and asparagus about half an hour; peas 15 to 20 minutes.

Canned vegetables need only be reheated before serving, and the oven can be used for them, too. When you are broiling meats, such as hamburgers or a slice of ham, heat drained canned vegetables under the rack that hold the meat. Drippings from the meat give delicious flavor to the vegetables. Save the juice from the can to add to soup or gravy.

ADVISES ORDERING FERTILIZER EARLY

Early ordering of fertilizer is more urgent than usual this year. Supplies are reduced and the demand large. Possible railroad car shortages may restrict movement of fertilizer materials. If farmers wait, they may experience a temporary local fertilizer shortage and at a time when they need fertilizer most.

Supplies of super-phosphate will be short because of the sulphur situation. Sulphur is used in making super-phosphate, and more of it is going into the preparedness program.

Usual mixed fertilizers may be in normal supply this spring, but high-analysis grades will be short because of the shortage of 45 per cent super-phosphate.

Even with mixed fertilizers, early ordering is held advisable. Mixed fertilizers must be stored in the factory to cure before they are taken to the farm. This is necessary to insure good drilling condition. If they can be moved when cured, through early orders, the manufacturer will have storage facilities for making a new batch.

TEN POPULAR ANNUALS FOR THE FLOWER GARDEN

On the basis of flower seed sales, the following ten annuals are considered most important for the amateur flower gardener: petunias, marigolds, asters, sweet peas, snapdragons, nasturtiums, portulacas, larkspurs, zinnias, and sweet alyssum.

The bright colors, economy and price, long-flowering season, and simple cultural methods make annuals very popular. American plant breeders in recent years have made it possible to have a winter of colorful effect in the plants.

A half-century or more ago, the two most popular flowers were nasturtiums and sweet peas. Asters became more popular just prior to World War I. Dry, infertile areas can be covered with dazzling color effect with the use of portulacas. Most flower lovers can arrange to include these 10 annuals in their flower garden in 1951.

GRASSLAND FARMING SUITED TO POULTRY

Hay and pasture are the two principal products from grassland farming, and both often can be utilized on poultry farms to good advantage.

Litter or bedding for the poultry house floors is a problem to practically all poultry growers. When hay is cut fine with a ne-sludge cutter it makes good poultry litter. Some of the best specific hay plants for chickens litter are timothy, reedtop, orchard grass and the clovers and other legumes.

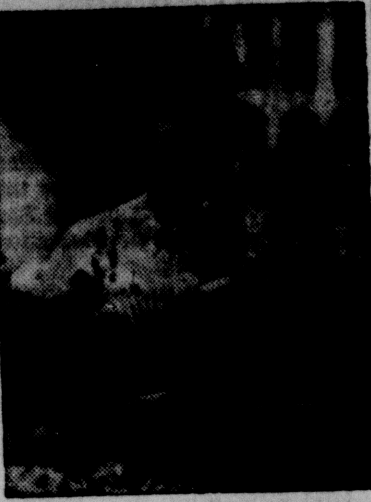

Cut timothy is particularly well suited for poultry houses. It does not pack readily and wears well because the stems do not break easily. Cut timothy litter dries out readily and resists decay even if it does get wet.

Chickens and turkeys eat large amounts of hay leaves and fine stems. These hay products are good sources of proteins and vitamins. There is seldom a cannibalism problem in flocks that have access to cut hay. One hundred growing turkeys will consume about 200 pounds of hay per month.

Cut hay has been the principal poultry litter used for eight years on the County Home farm in Crawford county. Carl Harrison, Johnstown R. D., keeps his turkey shelter floors well covered with hay that is harvested with a pick-up baler. Harrison puts hay in the shelters two to three times a week and the turkeys eat large amounts of the choice hay particles.

Harrison says: "Since I feed my turkeys with hay, it has solved the feather picking, sore feet, sore hock and breast blisters problem." Harrison leans heavily toward grassland farming in his turkey operations.

Prima Ballerina To Dance Here

In the world of ballet, the name of Alexandra Danilova is sprinkled with star dust.

In the terminology of the theatre she is a Prima Ballerina Assoluta and in case you are not familiar with the phrase just put it down that she is tops. And Danilova comes to New Castle February 21 with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

Russian Born

Danilova was born in St. Petersburg where training in ballet dancing was considered standard equipment for girls. And for many boys too, back before the force and violence replaced beauty and aestheticism.

As a girl she was trained in the Russian Imperial school and later danced in the Maryinsky theatre. Perhaps some of the glamor and grace of Pavlova and Karsavina rubbed off on Danilova for it was in this historic theatre that the famous pair danced.

In 1938 when the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo was organized, Madame Danilova joined it and has been a prima ballerina with it ever since.

The ballet comes to the Cathedral on February 22 under the sponsorship of the Metropolitan Concert Guild although it is not a part of the regular subscription series.

Tickets for the ballet are now available. With Danilova will be such ballet stars as Frederick Franklin, Nargakie Krassovska, Leon Daniellian, Oleg Tupine, Nina Novak and many many others.

By BENNETT CERP

Humorist Stephen Leacock had a long string of college degrees, and Canadian associates usually addressed him as "Doctor." The had heard him thus referred to for three days, stepped up to him one evening and said, "Doctor could I prevail upon you to examine the star of last year's Ziegfeld Follies? She slipped on the promenade deck and I'm afraid she has sprained her hip."

Leacock reportedly ruefully later, "I rushed there like a startled gazelle, but alas! two doctors of divinity had arrived ahead of me."

The most believable golf story of the year appeared on the sports page of a Daytona Beach newspaper recently. It read, "At this point the gallery deserted the defending champion to watch Miss Blank, whose shorts were dropping on the green with astonishing regularity."

Princess Elizabeth Returns To London

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Princess Elizabeth returned to London Monday after 11 weeks in Malta with her husband Prince Philip amid press criticism over her frequent absences from London to visit him.

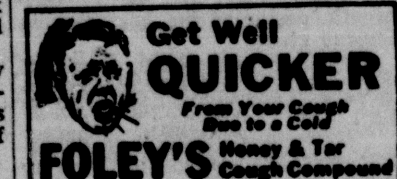

The princess was cheered at Clarence House, where she was awaited by her two children.

Some circles said that the criticism may compel Prince Philip to abandon his career in the navy.

Princess Elizabeth is described as being very "hurt" by the criticism and may ask to take her "Bonnie Prince Charlie" with her when she returns to Malta in mid-March.

CHILD SENSE

OMAHA.—(INS)—A child psychiatrist warned parents that they cannot fool their children by pretending to love them when they do not. Dr. Leo Kanner, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland, told a University of Nebraska convocation: "The child senses attitudes, just as he senses hunger. He knows whether you like him or don't like him, and he responds accordingly."

PHILADELPHIA.—(INS)—ease. That is the suggestion of Dr. Badges stating "I am a cured cancer patient" should be worn with pride by everyone who has been successfully treated for the disease. That is the suggestion of Dr. P. Reimann who said the buttons would impress upon the general public that a cancerous condition is not hopeless.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(INS)—There's something about nylon that not everybody likes.

Until this season, it had a tendency to cling with warm moisture to the body in summertime. And hold cold like unblanketed sheets in winter.

But all that's changed with a new finishing process called "nylonizing."

Introduced this month by Jantzen, the process guarantees to give nylon the "absorbent comfort and soft, silky feel" of silk. Women gave up those qualities in exchange for the synthetic's long-wear, easy-wash, no-iron benefits. Now they get all that and absorbency too.

The chemical "finish," applied after the dyeing of a nylon product, is permanent. Any garment which has been treated will be tagged with the trade-mark, "nylonized."

Ellwood Scout Tureen Dinner Is Big Success

Well over 600 last night filled Ellwood City's Moose hall for the first Connoquenessing district Boy Scout tureen dinner in celebration of Boy Scout Week.

The complete success of the meeting was realized when every pack and troop in the Connoquenessing district received some kind of an award.

Window award winners for cub packs were packs 11, 36 and 31, and troop winners were two from troop 21 and troop 2.

First place prizes went to pack 11 for a boats and bridges theme, and one patrol of troop 21 for a Valley Forge jamboree theme.

Participation awards for anniversary week were given packs 11, 36 and 31, all for first place, and a second award to pack 34.

Troop participation awards, which include five parts in civic day, window displays and the tureen dinner, included troops 2, 11, 13, 16, 21, 31, 34 and 54. Troop 28 received third place award for participation.

A special award for achieving a crusade goal in 1950 went to troop 21 and was received by scoutmaster Charles Pollette.

The presentation was made by J. C. Hildebrand, Lawrence county Scout executive.

State Capitol

Lobbyists Are Quite Plentiful

Many Interests Are Represented At Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Successful lobbying is a hard task but apparently is financially agreeable work from the appearance of those on deck for the 1951 session of the General Assembly. Lobbyists represent interests ranging from jewelers and beauticians all the way up through teachers and local governments to such major league clients as railroads, communications, oil producers, truckers and power utilities. It is axiomatic in legislative halls that a "hungry lobbyist is a poor lobbyist" and from the appearance of these so-called "legislative engineers" all must be successful. Experience has shown that successful lobbyists can be valuable to hard-working lawmakers. Information at their fingertips concerning their special fields and it can help Republicans and Democrats alike to choose a course of action. Lobbyists strive to keep free of any taint which could hamper their work on behalf of their respective clients. A lobbyist held in low esteem might as well turn in his brief case.

Duncan C. McCallum, secretary to Governor Fine, probably will be counted among the more successful secretaries to chief executives in the past two decades. He prepared for his present job with similar duties during the last administration of the late governor Pinchot, 1931-35. The consensus among newsmen assigned to the State Capitol is that McCallum will rank with Paul Pedigo, onetime Philadelphia newspaper editor, who toiled on behalf of former governor James, and George I. Bloom, a Washington, Pa., attorney who did a masterful job for ex-governor Martin, now in the U. S. Senate.

A sub-committee which studied public school attendance areas for the Joint State Government Commission, has filed a report with the General Assembly showing the consolidation was stepped up following enactment of the school subsidy law in 1945. Chief benefit is decreased costs of operation in the third and fourth class school districts which are the target of the law. The per pupil costs which are typically related to given numbers of high school pupils in school districts maintaining four year high schools decrease from $244 for a school whose average daily membership is 50 pupils to $163 for a school of 300 pupils, the report stated. Similarly, the per pupil costs in school districts maintaining six-year high schools decrease from $209 for only 100 pupils to $156 for 700 pupils. The report showed that in districts maintaining eight-year elementary schools, the per pupil cost dropped from $124 for 50 pupils to $83 for 350 students. The report disclosed that in 1929 there were 484 high schools enrolling 100 pupils or less compared with 122 such schools in the 1949-50 school year.

The State Game Commission has announced that sales of forest products from state game lands during 1950 totaled $42,304. The money, deposited in the game fund, represented sales of saw timber, paper wood, chemical wood, mine timbers and firewood. "More important to Pennsylvania's wildlife than the money received was the improvement to game habitat resulting from the timber cutting," the Commission said. "The removal of these wood products allows sunlight to reach the first floor, stimulating seedlings, sprout growth, food producing vines and shrubs—all of them favorable to wildlife."

Y.W. Wives Will Conduct Election

Y. W. Wives will meet on Thursday afternoon, February 15, at 1:30 o'clock at which time the election of officers and textile painting will be the afternoon business. All wives are invited to be present regardless of age. A nursery will be available for all pre-school children who are walking, at a small fee per child. Children should have their own toys to play with.

Any person who would like to donate toys to the nursery may do so by leaving them at the YWCA. Young wives are urged to attend to make new friends and learn new hobbies. This will also afford them an opportunity of enjoying the fellowship of other wives.

'SACRED LILY OF INDIA' BLOOMS

"The Sacred Lily of India" is making its annual debut. Mr. and Mrs. Nick Klenotic, 704 Harbor street, owners of the lily, are shown standing beside the unusual flower. To give you some idea of the lily's height, Mr. Klenotic is holding a yardstick beside it.

The stem of the "Sacred Lily of India" is three feet tall and the pistil, towering above the petals, is also three feet tall making a total height of six feet. The petals of the flower are only seventeen inches high and range in color from green and white to various shades of red, purple and very deep purple. The pistil is maroon in color and has the appearance of velvet. Although the lily has a unique beauty and coloring, it has a very offensive odor.

Certainly listed among nature's curiosities, this flower lives on the oxygen and moisture it draws from the air. The dried seven year old bulb had a six inch spike on it when the Klenotics brought it up from the darkened cellar. The six inch spike has grown to six feet in less than two weeks without earth or water.

In the spring after the blossom has died the lily is planted in the ground but not until all danger of frost is over. There it grows to resemble a beautiful umbrella palm tree. In the fall the tree dries up and must be lifted and returned to the darkened cellar until it is time for the lily to bloom again.

Among the legends handed down from early times is that the "Sacred Lily of India" carries with it the sting of death. It has been said that if the lily blooms in a closed room with humans, death sits in the same room.

Mr. and Mrs. Klenotic have the lily on display at their home on Harbor street. It will be on display until the odor makes it necessary to cut the blossom off.

Old-Fashioned Bayonet Is Coming Into Use In Korea

By FRANK CONNIEFF
(U. S. War Correspondent)

WITH THE 25TH DIVISION ON THE HAN FRONT, Feb. 13.—An old-fashioned weapon termed obsolete in army training schools—the bayonet—has become an implement of practical and psychological value in the hands of American infantrymen of the atomic era.

Bayonet charges straight out of the storied past have blossomed into something of a fad among doughfeet in the crack 25th division, although their higher officers still take a dim view of the technique. Officially, that is. On the practical side they realize that bayonet-toting troops are likely to have good morale while at the same time spreading terror among enemy soldiers exposed to their cold steel.

The most spectacular exploit along this line was the bayonet charge of Easy company of the 27th regiment commanded by Capt. Lewis Millett of South Dartmouth, Mass. Capt. Millett himself is a big, be-mustached soldier right out of the pages of a historical novel. His infatuation with the ancient bayonet as an instrument of modern combat is one of the great love affairs of the Korean war.

Rapidly Spreading Vogue

But Easy company's assault—which killed 147 counted Chinese via bayonet and gunfire before it had spent its force—was only the most exciting example of a rapidly spreading vogue. The steel-tipped charge sent historians into the record books in search of past precedents and their research unearthed some provocative data.

Captain Millett and his men probably accounted for the greatest toll by means of the bayonet of any American outfit since the Revolutionary war, according to the historians. The last world war provides a basis of comparison. So far as the archives disclosed, only one bayonet charge was made by American infantrymen during the whole European war and this only accounted for three known dead.

It is an interesting coincidence that this attack was made by a paratroop battalion commanded at that time by Col. John (Mike) Michaelis, who presently commands the 27th regiment. Colonel Michaelis can barely recall the incident, although it is a matter of official record.

No Spur of Moment Affair

Capt. Millett's slashing attack was no spur of the moment affair. I learned when I checked around his regiment. The rangy infantryman had been schooling his men in the technique for some time despite the good-natured disapproval of Lieut. Col. Gordon Murch, his battalion commander and as fine a combat officer as this war has produced.

During a recent period when the "Wolfhounds" were in reserve, Capt. Millett mustered together about a platoon of bayonets from his company. He had the men practice bayonet surgery on straw dummies. He had them launch charges as if they were the real thing. When he finally gave the signal, the impetuosity of their assault swept the hillside clean of

Report Number Of State Farms Shows Decline

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—(INS)—A preliminary 1950 U. S. census report showing the number of farms in Pennsylvania declined by 24,784 since 1945 today aroused concern among state farm leaders.

The report credits Pennsylvania with 146,977 farms in 1950 compared with 171,761 in 1945 and 169,027 in 1940.

State Agriculture Department officials believed much of the decline was due to a 1950 census difference in the definition of a farm and an increasing tendency to enlarge farms under a single operation through absorbing adjoining operations.

Also to blame, the officials said, was abandonment of some unprofitable and comparatively inaccessible farms as well as farms adjacent to cities and turned into home building and commercial developments.

Steady Decline

Department statistics show a steady decline from the peak of 224,248 farms reached in the state in 1900.

Improved or crop land has dropped in 50 years from 13 million to eight million acres, officials said, although the remaining acreage is producing in greater volume than ever before.

Difference in census definitions involves consideration of farms of three acres or less. In 1950, they were counted as farms only if the value of agricultural products sold amounted to $150 or more.

In 1945, they were counted if agricultural products produced were valued at $250 or more, with the same standard applying to farms of more than three acres.

Farms of more than three acres were counted in 1950 only if agricultural products produced, exclusive of home gardens, had a value of $150 or more.

ASK BIDS ON BONDS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The State Highway and Bridge Authority today called for bids March 28 on $25,000,000 worth of serial bonds to supplement the $15,000,000 block of securities sold December 1, 1949.

The authority was authorized by the General Assembly in 1949 to borrow up to $40,000,000 to finance its program.

The money derived from the transaction will be used to finance road and bridge improvements.

The new issue will mature over

Stassen Calls For Support Of Policy Of Gen. Eisenhower

BELLEfonte, Pa., Feb. 13.—(INS)—Republican support of the policy and program enunciated by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was called for in a Lincoln Day address by University of Pennsylvania President Harold E. Stassen.

The party of Lincoln," he said at Bellefonte, should not abandon other nations in a vain grasp for non-existent security.

"Instead, it should—with calm courage—move forward in support of the clear course outlined by General Eisenhower, the course that holds the best hopes of a future just peace and an expanding freedom for America and mankind."

Stassen urged support of Gov. John S. Fine's administration and said governors are faced with difficult problems stemming from the accelerated defense program.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. — (INS)—Courtship couples in the village of Durdley, near Southampton, protested loudly when farmer Norman Clark electrified a fence surrounding his herd of prize cattle. The fence runs alongside the local Lovers' Lane, with its traditional kissing gate at each end, and more than one idyll was broken by unpleasant shocks. Two council surveyors investigated and also received shocks. Clark was ordered to arrange safeguards.

Mediation Board Seeking To End Railroad Dispute

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The National Mediation Board scheduled today a full day of joint conferences with railroad management and union leaders in an accelerated attempt to end the two-year labor dispute.

The first session was called for 10 a.m. and board sources indicated they may hold conferees in session until "solid" progress is made.

The negotiators are working under pressure from the Army which is operating the roads under presidential mandate.

The difficulties in reaching agreement include refusal on the

Mr. Congressman...

It must not happen again!

....no business should be permitted to make a tax-free profit!

THROUGHOUT the whole of World War II, Congress permitted thousands of big businesses to escape all, or a great part, of the federal income taxes collected from other businesses and individuals, including YOU. These TAX PETS of Congress include co-operative corporations and many so-called mutual companies—all of them either wholly excused from supporting our government or given special favors that enable them to escape most of the tax. During World War II, co-operative corporations, alone, escaped payment of nearly one billion dollars in federal income taxes.

Today—now greatly expanded on tax-free profits—co-ops and other tax-exempt businesses are able to avoid approximately that much in federal income taxes EVERY YEAR. What they do not pay is, of course, added to the tax bill of everyone else. In the present emergency Congress still lets them get away with it... still adds it on to your already staggering income tax bill.

THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THIS TAX INJUSTICE RESTS SQUARELY UPON CONGRESS. WRITE YOUR CONGRESSMAN AND SENATORS. DEMAND THAT THIS TAX DISCRIMINATION BE ENDED, IMMEDIATELY. CO-OPS AND OTHER TAX-EXEMPT BUSINESSES MUST NOT BE PERMITTED TO MAKE A TAX-FREE PROFIT. THEY MUST BE REQUIRED TO SUPPORT OUR GOVERNMENT—FULLY—JUST AS YOU ARE REQUIRED TO DO.

WHAT IS LUXURY?.

Well, in Berlin it might be a doorknob...

In France, a bar of soap...

In the United States, a necklace of diamonds...

In Italy, a light bulb!

Yes, we sure ARE the lucky ones in this world! For instance, you'd have to look far and wide to find an American who puts electric service in the luxury class! There's nothing either rare or expensive about electricity in this country. Quite the contrary... electrical power is so plentiful and so cheap that we all take it 'or granted!

YOU have helped make electricity low in price by using it for more and more jobs. And the men and women of the business-managed companies are always working to bring you better service at lower cost. The result of this combination? Electricity is just about the biggest bargain in the family budget today!

PENNSYLVANIA POWER COMPANY

Greatness Of Edison Retold

Rotary Hears Vidal In Interesting Talk

Speaking before the New Castle Rotary club at its weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday, on the subject, "February's Third Son," Numa F. Vidal, manager of the Sharon district of the Pennsylvania Power company, told of some of the greatness of Thomas A. Edison, who was born on February 11, 1847.

Many folks probably never recall that Edison was a February son, because Lincoln and Washington, two great Americans born in February have more or less eclipsed his brilliancy, yet of him Henry Ford said, following his death in 1931, "Thomas Edison did more to abolish poverty than any group of men since the beginning of time."

Lost Many Jobs
Vidal recounted the humble start of Edison, first as a "news butcher," and then when he was fired over some slight misdeed, how he turned to the study of telegraphy, and at the age of 17, became a telegraph operator working out of Stratford, Ontario, losing his job there, when it was found he had set up an automatic signal to report that he was on the job.

During the following five years, he worked as a "tramp" telegrapher throughout the country, and began the string of inventions which were to bring him greatness, with the patenting of a vote recorder for the House of Representatives in Washington.

He also set up a device to electrocute cockroaches, because one of the offices in which he worked, was more or less infested with these pests.

Summoned to the New York Stock Exchange to fix the stock ticker there, he improved on the existing ticker, and when his employer felt that he had received the maximum benefit of Edison's experience, he was allowed to go with a bonus of $40,000. During the time he worked for the stock exchange, he received a salary of $300 per month, which was almost fabulous money back in the 1870's.

Inventions Make Money

Edison's next venture was the establishment of a shop in Newark, N. J., where he manufactured his improved stock ticker device.

In 1875, after A. L. and J. R. Graham Bell invented the telephone, the Western Union Telegraph company called in Edison to improve transmission bugs, Edison inventing the carbon transmitter, in use to this day. The Western Union offered him $100,000 but he preferred to take his payments on the basis of $6,000 per year for 17 years.

In 1875, he started out to perfect an incandescent light, which would be an improvement over the gas lights and candle light illumination then in use. He finally perfected the carbon filament electric light, which proved to be a wonderful curiosity. He had a battery of 60 of these lights going in his laboratory in Menlo Park, N. J., and the Pennsylvania railroad ran a special train to Menlo Park to see this curiosity.

Edison organized a stock company to put it to practical use, and contracted to light a number of buildings in New York, which plan was put into use in 1882. He risked his fortune with this venture, and it lost money for some time, until he could perfect a method of making the lamps by a cheaper method, his first cost being $1.25 per lamp. This was finally pared down to 37 cents per lamp, when his company started to make money, and capitalists who had previously scoffed at the idea hastened to put money into the scheme.

In 1877 he invented the phonograph, and about the same time he also became interested in the electric railway, which he exhibited at a railroad exposition in Chicago. In 1887 he invented the early motion picture, the first picture being "The Great Train Robbery."

Interested in the properties of cement, he started a cement plant in New Jersey, and stepped up the process of manufacture from around 200 barrels per day to 1,100 barrels through the invention of a new type of kiln. At his death, Mr. Edison, practically an uneducated man as far as formal schooling was concerned, had 1,097 patents to his credit, and a survey conducted in 1913 listed him as one of the ten greatest Americans. He died in October, 1931, at the age of 84, one of America's greatest scientists and inventors, Mr. Vidal stated in conclusion.

Long-Range Air Arm Seen As U.S. Need By Maj. De Seversky

CINCINNATI, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Major Alexander P. DeSeversky asserted last night that the United States' most pressing need is a long-range strategic air arm capable of destroying Russia's war-making potential.

The prominent aeronautical engineer told the Cincinnati Technical and Scientific society the U. S. should schedule its rearmament program in the following four priority phases instead of "trying to do everything at once":

Work Crews Repair Break In Gas Line

OAKDALE, Pa., Feb. 13.—(INS)—Work crews today repaired a break in a 20-inch gas line which exploded with a roar "like 40 airplanes," one mile north of Oakdale.

Manufacturers Light and Heat Company officials speculated the break may have occurred because of a landslide or thawing ground. Repair crews shut off gas seeping through the broken pipe and routed it through parallel lines.

Joseph Leonard of north Fayette township said his house, which is a half mile from the explosion, was shaken by the blast last night. "It sounded like 40 airplanes roaring at once," he added. "The house shook, window panes rattled and the front porch vibrated for at least 10 minutes after the line broke."

Interested in the properties of cement, he started a cement plant

Second Front In China Urged

House Leader Martin Urges Nationalists Get Go-Ahead Sign

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(INS)—House Minority Leader Martin demanded last night that Chinese Nationalist armies be permitted to open a "second front" against the Chinese Communists on the Asian mainland.

The Republican leader proposed that the United States supply equipment, ammunition and food to assure success for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's armies and said: "There is good reason to believe that General MacArthur favors such an operation."

Chiang, he said in a speech at the annual Lincoln Day dinner of the Kings County Republican committee in Brooklyn, could establish a second front in Asia by full-scale invasion from Formosa or by a series of commando raids and night landings.

Martin charged that the State Department is holding up such operations and demanded a thorough housecleaning "starting with Dean Acheson."

According to responsible military opinion—yes, right in our own Pentagon—the establishment of a second front on China's mainland by the armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is not only feasible and practical with aid from us, but it would be the cheap-

Here's Good News For Parents Of Puny Children

HADACOL May Relieve Cause of Distress If Due to Lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

A healthy childhood is the basis for a healthy adult life. Little Lee Horton, age four, of 108 74th Avenue, Houston, Texas, was deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron and just didn't have any appetite at all. His father, Mr. F. W. Horton, said that they just couldn't get Lee to eat. Then they heard about Lee Horton

HADACOL on the radio, and decided to try it for Lee. After taking HADACOL, said Mr. Horton, Lee's appetite picked up and he started eating three hearty meals a day. Now Lee has gained weight, has more energy, and never has to be coaxed to eat. Here is Mr. Horton's own statement:

"Lee was very weak and run-down and just didn't want to eat at all. We heard about HADACOL on the radio and decided that was what Lee needed. After he started taking HADACOL his appetite picked up right away. He started gaining weight, and eats real well now, and has been feeling real good. HADACOL has been good for Lee and I heartily recommend it to everyone."

Barrage Is Aimed At Comic Books In Legislature

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Two state representatives today aimed a legislative barrage at the profitable comic book business.

Under a bill co-sponsored by Republicans William E. Brown, Chester, and Luke T. Toomey, Perry, any person selling or giving away comic books portraying crime to persons under 15 years old would be liable for a year's imprisonment or $500 fine or both.

The measure also singled out books, newspapers and magazines and lists these crimes as offensive: Arson, assault with caustic chemicals, weapons, burglary, kidnapping, murder, rape, robbery and manslaughter.

Other bills introduced in the house would:

Make it a crime to strike a news reporter or photographer or damage a photographer's equipment with a penalty of three years imprisonment and $2,000 fine or both; amend the constitution to allow 18-year-olds the right to vote and provide for amendments of the General Assembly.

Attlee Calls For Agreement With Russia On Germany

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Prime Minister Attlee called Monday for an agreement with Soviet Russia on rearmament of Germany. He also said that United Nations forces in Korea should not be ordered across the 38th Parallel again until there has been full consultation.

Attlee divided his statement during a foreign policy debate in the House of Commons between Europe and the Far East.

He defended Britain's position opposing sanctions against China for Korean aggression and said he still hopes for a peaceful settlement of Far Eastern problems.

With regard to Germany he said: "It is useless to discuss German rearmament in isolation. We have got to find some way to enable the free and totalitarian worlds to live together."

Attlee said the agenda of any new Big Four conference "must correspond with realities of the world situation."

He added: "His Majesty's government shall do its utmost to seek a meeting and secure an agreement."

Attlee said that the danger of a German military emergency cannot be eliminated by leaving the situation in a vacuum.

He said: "It is not a practical proposition for the three western powers either to provide all the men and materials to defend the Germans against the east, or to withdraw and leave an unarmed Germany to make a contribution to an integrated force."

Declares U.S. Patton Tank Is Finest Medium Tank

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins declared today that the U. S. Patton tank is the "finest medium tank in the world."

Collins, in the second installment of an interview with the U. S. news and world report, asserted that the United States has increased its tank strength in comparison to other ground arms.

The chief of staff said that at present an infantry division has a battalion of tanks as an integral part, as well as a tank company in each regiment. This amounts, he said, to two tank battalions per division, as compared to no integral tank units in World War II, when tank units were attached to infantry when needed.

Collins said that the new T-41 light tank, equipped with 76-MM guns, is going into production immediately, without further field testing. He added that funds are available for 1,000 of the new tanks.

But Collins asserted that the U. S. is depending for tank strength primarily on mediums, and that even though a new T-42 medium is being developed, the General Patton, now in use in Korea, probably will be our standard medium.

"And I don't doubt," Collins added, "that it is the finest medium tank in the world."

Report Drop Of 100,000 Net Tons Of Ingots Last Week

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Steel magazine reported that the railroad switchmen strike and bad weather caused a drop of 100,000 net tons in the production of ingots last week.

The national ingot rate fell 4.5 points to 97 per cent of capacity with the severest setback in the Cleveland district where the rate dropped 55 points to 21.5 of capacity.

The national metal working periodical also said the metal industry is looking forward to the government's controlled materials plan which goes into effect around July 1st.

Steel noted that most users and producers of steel, copper and aluminum believe the CMP of the last war worked well.

The magazine explained: "Producers like the plan because it keeps material-hungry customers off their necks."

The new plan is unlike the old one, under which virtually all non-essential civilian production requiring steel, copper and aluminum was banned, steel added.

Under the new plan a large amount of material should be available for civilian goods after the military and favored civilian programs are supplied.

Rochester Sergeant Killed In Fire At New England Base

OTTIS AIR FORCE BASE, FALMOUTH, Mass., Feb. 13.—(INS)—Sgt. Louis E. Mengel, 21, Rochester, Pa., was killed and two other army men were seriously burned Monday when fire swept the base post office.

The two men taken to Williams hospital, Camp Edwards, were Cpls. Benjamin Carter, 21, New York City, and Bernard H. Young, 23, Altoona, N.Y.

All three were bonded clerks. Sgt. Mengel had been at the base two years.

A considerable quantity of first-class mail and parcel post, which had arrived over the week-end and awaited distribution, was destroyed by the flames and water.

Cause of the fire was under investigation by postal and air base authorities. The three men slept in a section of the one-story building. The flames were discovered by Sgt. Thomas L. Blevins of Konrook, Va., who called firemen after leading the two corporals from the burning building.

Decline Is Shown In Relief Rolls

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—(INS)—A decline of 310 persons during the last half of January trimmed relief rolls to 333,135 recipients, the Department of Public Assistance reported today.

The DPA said 3.2 per cent of Pennsylvania's population is dependent upon the Department of Food, Clothing and Shelter.

The decline, according to the department, reflects "the extremely high employment levels" of the past few months.

"Heavy consumer buying to offset possible future shortages and the expected influx of defense orders have combined to keep manufacturing industries operating at maximum or near maximum capacity, while stepped up draft calls have created job opportunities that would not normally be available.

"As a result of these factors," the DPA explained, "great numbers of workers laid off in seasonal industries such as agriculture, building construction and highway work have been able to find employment during times when they normally would be idle."

Control Of Weather Seen As Great Achievement

By DR. I. M. LEVITT,
Director, Fels Planetarium of the Franklin Institute
(Written Especially for I. N. S.)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—Control of weather through cloud seeding is well on its way to becoming the outstanding scientific achievement of the 20th century—perhaps even the monumental achievement of man of all time.

It goes back to July 12, 1946, when Dr. Vincent Schaefer of the General Electric company, succeeded in seeding a cloud of super-cooled breath in his home freezer.

New Era Developed

When the startling transformation took place and the super-cooled moisture changed to a cloud of ice particles, an entire new era was thrust upon the scientific world.

The date on which the first cloud was seeded lacks but four days in being the first anniversary of the detonation of the atomic bomb. So side by side these two monumental contributions were swept into our civilization.

Which is the more important? At the moment the atomic bomb may outrank cloud-seeding but in a short time the ability on man to create and control weather should prove far the more outstanding of the two accomplishments.

In the few years between the creation of the first artificial rain and the present, an entire new field has been opened to the meteorologists and the possibilities which lie at hand are tremendously significant.

Can Make It Rain

No longer will prolonged stretches of drought destroy the land and devour the moral fiber of the farmer. Give the scientist a rain cloud and he can make it rain.

Let thunderstorms threaten the harvest of crops and the scientist, by over-seeding the clouds, can prevent the storms.

Where hail storms caused devastating damage, intentional over-seeding will transform cloud droplets to snow crystals, which, unable to grow, will be stunted and dissipated.

Seeding clouds can increase the snow pack on mountains and act as a reservoir for moisture to be doled out far into the spring and summer.

Destructive winds can be tamed, even the teeth of a hurricane may be pulled by seeding, or the hurricane may be destroyed in its incipient stages.

May Halt Forest Fires

Dangerous forest fires may become an event of the past when artificial rain is called in to keep the forests moist or to quench a fire.

Fogs, which hinder air transportation, may, in some cases, cease to exist under the treatment planned for them. Only the imagination of man limits his horizons. By contrast, what can atomic energy do?

To begin, it has fashioned the most terrible and devastating weapon the world has ever known. It is difficult to think of this as a contribution to our way of life.

On the positive side, it can be the source of power in the future. But this statement cannot be made without some modification.

Atomic energy will be a source of power as long as the radioactive materials which are consumed are available.

Use Uranium For Fuel

Atomic piles are like our coal furnaces but, instead of coal, they use uranium for fuel. Let our supply of uranium, from the outside world, be cut off and almost immediately our power has ceased to exist unless other radio-active materials can be some way be enriched to replace uranium.

Unless something else appears on the horizon, the potentialities of atomic energy for power are somewhat limited.

The other contribution of a positive nature is the production of radio-isotopes which has proven a tremendous boon to industry and medicine.

There has been a tremendous evolution in these fields as a result of the application of man-made isotopes, but because medicine deals with the individual—it is personal—we are apt to exaggerate its importance.

Even when these advantages are weighed against the potentialities of weather control, they will be found wanting.

It is almost certain that the process whereby man can control the forces of nature will become the paramount discovery of the 20th century.

Only the surface of the achievements which lie at hand through artificial rainmaking has been scratched and these have revealed untold treasures of tremendous significance.

JUDGE SPEAKS

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. —(INS)—Judge Harold C. Kessinger of Richwood will be the principal speaker at the opening session of the 75th annual meeting of the N. J. State Horticultural Society at Hotel Claridge, Atlantic City, Dec. 4-6.

ELLIOTT AND MRS. ROSS AT TRACK

SON OF THE LATE PRESIDENT, Elliott Roosevelt checks over racing program at Hialeah, Fla., with Mrs. Minerva Bell Ross, 37, with whom his name has been linked. Mrs. Ross is reportedly divorcing her husband, but denied any romantic attachment to Roosevelt. (International)

Ecclesian Club To Have Anniversary

Sunday, February 18, marks the 12th anniversary event of the Ecclesian club.

In observance of this event, the Women's Ecclesian club will join the Ecclesian club in making the dinner and speaking program one of the most successful ever held. At 6 o'clock a full course dinner will be served in the local club rooms. Dr. J. Lumen Popp will be the toastmaster of the evening.

Speakers for the evening will be Alvin Shenkan and Attorney Walter Kleier. Invitations have been sent to the following members of the clergy who in the past have played an important part in the progress of the club: Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra, founder; Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Doerr; Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, and Rev. Fr. John M. Unger.

Rev. Fr. C. H. Becker, pastor of St. Joseph's church and spiritual director of the Women's Ecclesian club will be present.

President Ray McAuley of the Ecclesian club has worked diligently this past year to make the Ecclesian club more outstanding in the city. President of the Women's Ecclesian club is Mrs. Frances Canan.

Chairman of the anniversary is Bert Torchio, and he is being assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Davis and Mrs. Lucille Adams.

Holy Name
Has CommunionCommunion Breakfast,
Hear Two Addresses

At St. Lucy's church, on Sunday morning, the Holy Name society received communion at 7:30 mass.

The group marched to Columbus hall, following mass, and enjoyed a communion breakfast served by the Holy Rosary sodality.

Edward A. DeCarbo, principal speaker, made an interesting address. Rev. Fr. Stanley Zachevich, spiritual director, gave a splendid talk on the subject, "The progress and achievements of the organization."

There was an installation of new members and a formal reception in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. The group later gathered in the church auditorium for a social period.

Tasty refreshments were served by the Immaculate Conception sodality. Members of the Holy Rosary sodality who served the breakfast were Mrs. Mary Zumpella, president; Mrs. Frances Martone; Mrs. Catherine O'Connell; Mrs. Iovanna; Mrs. Angelina Garafalo; Mrs. Joseph Zumpella; Mrs. Grace Morabita; Mrs. Elvira Rouzo; Mrs. Elizabeth Marchionda; Mrs. Helen Tusciano; Mrs. Ann Malorano.

Reading Presented
By College Group
At Kiwanis Meeting

Members of the Westminster College dramatics department presented "Mr. Lincoln's Whiskers", a humorous stage reading, at the regular weekly dinner meeting of the New Wilmington Kiwanis club Monday evening.

Featured in the reading, which was under the direction of Donald L. Barbe, head of the speech and dramatics department at the college, were Bill Sample, Bobbie Cloud, Ruth Devlin, Dorothy Elder and Jay Gilmilim.

Guest at the meeting was Joe Ferris, assistant scoutmaster of the New Wilmington Boy Scout troop. Mr. Ferris and Chuck Krause, scoutmaster, gave reports on the borough Boy Scout troop to the Kiwanis Club, sponsor of the troop.

At the conclusion of the regular meeting, a meeting of the troop committee was held. Plans were made to hold a Board of Review on March 12.

The Boys and Girls committee also met at the conclusion of the regular meeting and discussed further plans for the All-Scout tureen dinner to be held at the United Presbyterian church on March 5.

There will be a meeting of the club directors at the home of H. B. Fowble Wednesday evening, Feb. 21, it was announced. Kiwanis club paper drive will be held Monday night, Feb. 26.

St. Vitus Holy Name Hears Talk

Holy Name men of St. Vitus church received their Holy Communion at the 7 o'clock mass Sunday morning. After mass, they dispensed to the parish hall where they enjoyed a light breakfast. Then Father R. Heintz opened the meeting with prayer. Also, led the organization in the recital of the Holy Name Pledge.

Dr. J. P. Prioletti then brought the meeting to order and had the guest speaker introduced by William F. DeCarbo.

Speaker was Mr. Daniel Hamill, an outstanding Catholic layman of the Pittsburgh diocese. He was chairman of the great Holy Name rally held at Forbes Field last summer. His talk centered on good strong Holy Name members and "A Catholic in Action."

Other issues were discussed then the meeting was adjourned.

Woman Suffers

Fracture of Arm

Mrs. Mary Ducic, aged 60 years, of Bessemer, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 11 o'clock Monday morning for a fracture of the right wrist.

Mrs. Ducic was injured when she slipped and fell on the ice.

Uphill Fight Is Seen
In Congress On
St. Lawrence Project

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The administration apparently faces an uphill fight today in convincing congress that the 650 million dollar St. Lawrence seaway project is vital to defense.

The project, first introduced in 1941, apparently has the best chance this session it has ever had for congressional action, but the prospects are still far from bright, in spite of personal support of President Truman.

The proposal to deepen the St. Lawrence river and make it into an actual seaway, along with the harnessing of its potential power, has never been voted on by either house of congress.

The house public works committee will open hearings Feb. 20 on the project. Interested congressmen and senators are expected to lead off the testimony. Commerce Secretary Sawyer is scheduled as first witness for the administration.

County Firemen

To Meet Wednesday

Lawrence county firemen and members of the auxiliary will gather in the rooms of the Wurttemberg-Perry township department Wednesday evening for the monthly meeting.

Preceding the business session, there will be a pancake supper served at 6:30 o'clock, and after the business meeting a program of entertainment will be enjoyed.

President Ernest Brooks of the county association is a member of the Wurttemberg-Perry township group and promises a fine evening's program for the members and their wives.

The largest commercial trout hatchery in the United States is located near Buhl, Ida.

New Music Teacher
Elected By North
Beaver School Board

Members of the North Beaver township school board approved appointment of Miss Jeannette A. Cariberg of Pleasantville, Pa., as music teacher in the township at a short meeting of the board Monday night.

Miss Cariberg replaces Mrs. Esther Shott, who resigned at the end of the first semester. Miss Cariberg began her duties at the beginning of the second semester. She is a graduate of Indiana State Teachers' College in January.

Work on the new elementary school building is practically at a standstill due to the weather. Much of the material is already on hand, however, and as soon as the weather breaks building should progress rapidly.

THIS FELLOW REALLY TICKS

GREENSBORO, N. C.—Sanky Flynn's watch says "tick-tock," his left ear says "tick-tock" and his right ear says "tick-tock." Honest.

Anyone standing close to Flynn can hear his ears ticking. He is one of the few persons in the world, according to medical science, whose ears tick, about twice a second, like a watch or clock.

The ticking doesn't bother Flynn at all. In fact, he says, he is so used to it he thinks he would have a hard time readjusting himself if his ticking suddenly ceased.

Married and the father of an 8-year-old son, Flynn is a loom fixer, one of the most skilled of textile operatives. And he was accepted by the Army in World War II.

Flynn's ticking, physicians say, is due to a spasmodic contraction of muscles in the roof of his mouth. This causes the eustachian tube, leading from the throat to the ears, to open and shut, making the peculiar noise. He laughs about his "tick-tocking" and invites doubters to listen.

Latest From New Castle Front Down At St. Pete

(By JAMES P. CALDWELL)
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 12.—Latest arrivals here from New Castle are Attorney and Mrs. L. Alley. Mont said there was so much ice on the roads that they were afraid to venture out until groundhog day. They did a lot of skidding until they reached the Pennsylvania Turnpike, where they took off their chains and gave'er the gas.

Mont came to see me upon his arrival here. I was surprised to see him looking so well, considering the high price of pork chops. He left Mrs. Alley on the shuffleboard courts, which indicates his complete confidence in his wife.

One of the first questions Mont asked me was "Have you any late copies of the New Castle News." He said that he felt like a fish out of water on the way down, with no news to read. When I gave him a late copy, he turned first to the death record. I believe thousands of News readers do the same thing.

Exploring Sunshine
Percy B. Walls of Boyles avenue was another visitor who dropped in on me recently to find out if I was still percolating on four cylinders. He is down here with Mrs. Walls to explore the sunshine and donate his share to the Federal gas tax. He is going down to Key West, not so much to see Truman's bath house as to take a picture of Bill Milson's new cottage. This cottage, built by the well known New Castleite, is said to be cyclone proof, and will stand hatched, no matter how high the waves. Milson offered Walls ten dollars for a good picture of it, so Walls came with his camera.

John B. McElroy of Court street, New Castle, is building a house here for himself and wife. He expects to maintain his residence in New Castle, but Mrs. McElroy is allergic to the cold weather up north. They expect to live here during the winter months. Mr. McElroy is an all round mechanic, specializing in electrical work.

Here With Relative
Mrs. Elsie Nessel of Wallace avenue is here with her cousin, Miss Eva Buchanan of Ohio, absorbing Florida sunshine. I have forgotten Miss Buchanan's home town. The only thing I know is the older you get, the more convinced you are that your mind is something to forget with. You run over the alphabet from "A" to "Z" in a vain effort to recall a name, with which you are supposed to be familiar, but it won't come back, and you have to give it up. Then all of a sudden it stands out in your mind's eye, like a pimple on a sore nose. Getting back to every day gossip, I heard a woman say the other day that she always thought that she was fairly good looking, but she never took a good picture. Maybe she was not aware that there are thousands like her. After considerable research I have failed miserably in finding a woman who would admit that her photo flattered her.

Both Nursing
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dague, former residents of New Castle, are now located at Clearwater, near here, and the county seat of Pinellas county. Both are nursing. Mrs. Dague is in a hospital and Mr. Dague at a gas station. Before her marriage Mrs. Dague was known as Margaret Laurel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Laurel of Lyndal street, New Castle. Mrs. Dague was a well known nurse in New Castle.

Some New Castle tourists anchored at Clearwater are Mr. and Mrs. John Offutt, Mr. and Mrs. William Offutt and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Offutt of Ellwood City. Other Ellwood City folks are Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson and daughter Jane, the latter an Ellwood teacher, on leave. On his way down John Offutt's car developed a bad case of appendicitis, with result that he had to buy a new engine.

Mrs. Allen Catches Fish
Mrs. Kathryn Allen, New Castle's popular musician, recently joined her husband, Richard Allen here. He had come down earlier to get a boat for fishing purposes. Mr. and Mrs. Allen go deep sea fishing in the Gulf of Mexico. So far Mrs. Allen has proven just as expert fishing as she is playing the piano. Her largest catch was 37 trout, a sheephead and a dogfish. The dogfish and sheephead got into a fight as soon as they were landed in the boat. The dogfish won when it got a strangle hold on the sheephead's throat.

Howard Reynolds, who is with his son, Howard Reynolds, Jr., in the undertaking business, is undertaking a rest on St. Petersburg's green benches. There is a bunch of New Castleites who meet on the green benches every morning and gossip about every sinner and passer by. They include Reese Lewis, James Clements, Chester Reynolds, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Clements, Mrs. Rose Porter, Mrs. Josephine Hoover and others.

Mrs. Lynda Allen, mother of Mrs. Chester Reynolds, has been quite sick. She was released from the hospital a few days ago, but is still in a weakened condition.

Recent Arrivals
New Castle people registered here since my last report include Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Johnson, Clarence A. Triplett, Mrs. Ella Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whitacre, Dr. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moore, Mrs. Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Clous, Raymond Cunningham, Mrs. Lillie Jordan, the latter of Volant. There are also a number of other New Castle people, who have not registered, and unless I know them I cannot get their names.

The Green Benches
In closing it might be appropriate to say a few words about the green benches, which have made St. Petersburg so famous. The latest story going the rounds of the green benches is that of an aged man who was asked why he had married a young wife. "Well," he replied as he scratched where the hair ought to be, "I'd rather smell perfume than liniment."

Then there is the one about the woman who found a pearl in an oyster. She was excitedly telling another woman on the green benches about it. "That's nothing," disdainfully replied the second woman, "I got a diamond out of an old crab on the green benches."

Life on the benches goes on about as usual. Some of the lone-some hearts who came down here wearing mink coats and looking for a big strong man to help them spend their money, look with disdain upon the green benches. They are the ones who will come back next year with more modified views. Possibly I should make it plain that this does not apply to any New Castle women, as I still value my scalp.

But as a parting shot it may be stated that the green bench women and Canadian mounted have something in common. They both use powder to get their man. I heard this one this morning. The three "R's" down here stand for Reading, Romance and Rheumatism.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Carrying It Too Far.

Whenever Mary Anne asked her mother whether she could do something the answer was either, "It's up to you" or "Anything you wish, dear."

Mrs. Stople felt that she was being democratic in her family life, that she was not standing in the way of the development of independence and responsibility. But Mary Anne began to get the feeling that Mother didn't care what she did. Of course, she wanted to be able to do things on her own. But it was important to feel that someone was interested, too.

Apparent lack of interest is considered indifference, and indifference means that there's no love. It certainly is possible to carry this business of independence and responsibility too far. The two-year-old who goes upstairs to bed, turns the light on and off and does all the other things attendant on retiring all by himself, is fine to show off. But he probably needs companionship of parents and all that this means for some little time yet.

We all need a balanced diet. And this goes not only for food but for other things. Independence, yes! Responsibility, surely! But also approval and affection, warm friendliness and interest are essential parts of a child's or adult's emotional diet. (Copyright, 1951, United Features Syndicate, Inc. Trademark Reg. U. S. Pat. U.S. Better Supplied With Food Than Soviet Russia

By JOHN HARMS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—A special Agriculture Department report shows today that the U. S. probably is better supplied with food than Soviet Russia in the current international crisis.

Although the food situation in the Soviet Union has improved during the past two years, the department reports shortages of such items as milk, eggs, butter and sugar.

It said that bread, principal article of the Russian diet, and other staples appear to be only in "satisfactory" supply.

The comparison was revealed in a special report of the department's office of foreign agricultural relations on the "world food situation, 1951."

The report said world food production continued to increase in 1950-51. Total output of important food products is expected to amount to about two per cent above a year earlier and four per cent more than before World War II.

Despite the increase in food production, however, the report said the world supply still is not permitting the world's people to eat as well as before the war, in terms of calories. This is due, the report pointed out, to the increase in world population.

The foreign agricultural experts also said in the report that "unless the international situation eases considerably, there is no substantial prospect now for further general expansion in food production and consumption in the world at large."

Roundup On Food Front
The report described the following world roundup on the food front:

The Soviet Union—The food situation has improved compared with the tight situation during World War II, but harvest of principal grains in 1950 is estimated at less than in 1949.

The U. S.—Production and consumption of food and feed products continued on high levels. Latin America—Most countries there have increased food supplies and their people are eating better than last year.

British Commonwealth—Production and consumption in most commonwealth nations improved, but the British Isles were forced to ration sharply meat consumption because of inability to import meat "at desired prices."

Continental Europe—Production and consumption continued to improve, although a severe drought last year hit Yugoslavia with food shortages.

Middle East—Growing conditions generally were favorable. Far East—India is faced with a "deteriorating" food situation. Most other parts of this region have production above a year ago, although political disturbances prevent transporting surpluses to hunger areas.

SLOW GROWTH

Madrid (SF)—The olive tree grows slowly and seldom reaches a height of more than 30 feet.

New Castle High Cagers Tangle With Sharon Tigers Here Tonight

Visitors Have Handed New County Fives Face Important Games Tonight

Coach Pete Colodi's Sharon High Tigers come here tonight intent on capturing their fifth consecutive game from the Hurricanes.

The visitors will, if successful at the George Washington floor, have completed a two year clean sweep, and every contest since the Bill Douglass coached team of 1948 upset the Tigers 50-43.

The Bengals break fast from a well knit zone defense and have run up 460 points in eight games while limiting the opposition to 361. They average 57 points every league game, the enemy 47.12.

Offensively, Carl Racketta and Walter Bedich lead the Sharon team, placing two and three in the league scoring with 135 and 129 points.

Sharon owns a five and four league record, having upset Beaver Falls and Ambridge twice, and New Castle at Sharon, 66-43. It was Racketta and Bedich then, who kept the scoring to themselves, COLUMBUS, O.—Coach Woody Hayes of Miami, (Ohio) University was recommended by a screening committee and the athletic board to become the new head football coach at Ohio State, but the University board of trustees refused to confirm the selection because only four of its members were present. The board voted to continue its deliberations until next Sunday.

Wampum At Jackson, Bessemer At Union In Top Attractions

Some of the best basketball attractions of the season are in store for Section 23 fans tonight, when the Lawrence county B schools take to the hardwood.

Any one of the three games could rate headliner position, while two of the three are very important in the outcome of the league race.

Bessemer faces a tough assignment on the Union floor, Wampum meets Mt. Jackson in a much awaited return match at Mt. Jackson, and New Wilmington entertains East Brook.

The Bessemer Cementers take on probably one of the most unenviable tasks in the league when they try to knock off the red hot Union Scoties on the Union floor. Union Scoties on the Union floor, and nothing to lose in the game, while the Cementers are still in the thick of the flag fight with Wampum and need a win badly.

Wampum At Mt. Jackson

Out at Mt. Jackson, the Wampum Indians will try and break the Mt. Jackson jinx. The last two times Wampum played on the Mounties' floor they went down to defeat.

In 1950 the Mounties handed Wampum its only league loss at Mt. Jackson. In 1949 when Mt. Jackson won the section title the Mounties and Indians came into the game on the North Beaver court one-two in the league standings. Mt. Jackson won and went on to the section crown.

East Brook expects to have its hands full at New Wilmington when the Eagles seek to sew up third place in the section. Two of the Greyhounds' three league wins have come on their home floor, where they are always tough.

Last year, when the Eagles were in the thick of the section title scramble, New Wilmington dumped them 43-40 on the college towners home court.

Jake LaMotta Confident That He Can Defeat Sugar Robinson

By KEN OPSTEIN
(L. N. S. Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Middleweight champion Jake LaMotta is the best 3 to 1 underdog who ever stepped into a boxing ring and if you don't believe it, just ask him.

The 28-year-old sledge-hammer slugger from the Bronx claims he should be favored over Sugar Ray Robinson in their 15-pound title fight tomorrow night at the Chicago stadium. LaMotta says:

"I heard the odds were 5 to 1 for awhile and now you say they're 3 to 1? Just try and get it. I should be the favorite. I can hurt Robinson and he knows it but he also knows that he can't hurt me."

There might be something to what Jake says. He lost four or five other bouts with the Harlem slasher but he floored the welterweight champion twice. Neither Robinson nor any one else has put LaMotta on the canvas.

Nice Omen

Those who believe in good luck omens also might note that Jake's beautiful wife Vicki will be at the ringside to cheer her husband. She has yet to see him lose in six fights.

Jake was so confident of winning the 160-pound crown from the late Marcel Cerdan in Detroit on June 16, 1949, that he brought his wife to see him fight for the first time. He wanted her to be there at his greatest moment when his hand was raised in victory.

Vicki missed a subsequent non-title match with Robert Villmain of France and Jake lost. She was in a front row seat, however, for the following five bouts. Her stocky spouse won three of them by knockouts and two by decisions.

Robinson Certain

Robinson is as certain of victory as LaMotta because this is one time the 147-pound champion does not "have to make weight". The Sugar man says:

"I once spotted LaMotta 15 pounds and beat him. There won't be that much of a difference this time. I'll be stronger at 154 or 155 pounds than I was in our other fights. Jake won't have more than a six-pound advantage."

The National Boxing Association has ruled that Robinson must relinquish his welterweight championship if he beats LaMotta. Jake could lose his crown even before entering the ring. This would occur if he failed to weigh 160 pounds or less by Wednesday noon.

Will Go On

Chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois Athletic commission said the match would go on as scheduled even if LaMotta was overweight. The title in that event would go to Robinson regardless of the fight's result.

President Jim Norris of the International Boxing club revised the pre-fight estimates and said the gate receipts may reach $200,000. His crowd prediction was 15,000.

The bout will be broadcast and televised.

Cage Tourney Entry Deadline Monday, Feb. 19

Teams wishing to enter the annual Optimist club floor tournament to be held the week of March 3 at George Washington junior high school should have their entry fees in by next Monday, it is announced by John Tillia, general chairman.

Teams may sign up for the tournament at Gus on East Washington street. Fee is $10.00. Teams wishing to enter the tournament should sign as soon as possible, for the number of teams may be limited to 12.

The tournament usually represents the finest independent teams in the county with the winner receiving the mythical championship of Lawrence county.

The Morella All-Stars won the tournament title last year by defeating the East Brook Boosters in the final game. Hank A. C. and Mt. Jackson Indies were the other teams, of the 16 entries, to get into the semi-finals.

By virtue of his four victories to one defeat, it is anticipated Robinson will defeat the "Bronx Bull," who has been inactive while Ray has kept his punching sharp by recent bouts. . . . The Grebe is not a duck but a relative to the loon which one hears on Canadian lakes. Some report Indians describe their cry as that of the departed. . . . In case you haven't heard, they're considering a course in horse racing at Kentucky U. John Carroll U. has a course in baseball lined up for spring. One university gives a course in fishing. . . . Kentucky's junior, center, is only seven feet "small". The Quarterback club of the local Elks lodge deserves plaudits for giving a dinner to basketballers of high school. Heretofore, the QBC has catered only to football players. However, not everyone can participate in both sports. The dinners engender considerable enthusiasm and causes the floor athletes to feel people are interested in them. . . . And writing of after-dinner speakers, "Auzzie" Cowmeadow, JV mentor, can make the English do gymnastics.

JACK GERSON is spending some time at Hot Springs. . . . Alley Rats will hold a mid-winter dinner meeting at the Elks home Feb. 23, according to Vic Johnston. . . . Horace Ashenfelter, former Penn State two-mile runner, has joined the FBI. Fred Wilt, a mile runner, already is in the FBI. Apparently the only one who has successfully escaped being run down by FBI's Wilt is Don Gehrman. However, like the FBI, Wilt is consistent, and the time may come when he'll overtake Gehrman. . . . Dick Davis who was a guest at the QBC's basketball dinner Saturday night, was a basketballer, and, for a time, managed the Lions club which gave the Elks five real opposition. . . . Tippy Richards, as a leader, in Recreation athletes, is able to point out the correct and incorrect ways of advancing athletically to the youngsters. His brother, Tex, who was prominent in softball, is residing at Erie. Their dad, T.C., can loll in his chair and recall his happy days with the I.A.A. and other fast baseball teams. . . . His brother, the late "Luby" Richards, was a good ball player and was known principally for his long hits.

Warriors Striving For First Place

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Warriors launch an all-out drive for first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern division tonight.

The Warriors meet the first place Boston Celtics at the arena tonight, and the New York Knickerbockers Thursday. Then they go to Boston to meet the Celts again Friday.

The Philadelphia courtmen have a good chance of gaining first place if they can sweep the three games.

Now it appears former club president Frank McKinney must bear a large share of the blame for Pittsburgh's plunge into the National League cellar last season.

General Manager George Weiss of the world champion New York Yankees insists that baseball will "seek no favors" if the government decides to draft 4-F players for limited service.

White Sox Secure Negro First Sacker

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—(INS)—General Manager Frank C. Lane of the Chicago White Sox today announced purchase of the contract of Negro first baseman Bob Boyd from Colorado Springs, Colo., a Sox Farm Club.

Boyd, former Negro-American League star with the Memphis Red Sox, joined Colorado Springs Aug. 1 last year and appeared in 42 games. He batted .373 and accounted for 102 total bases with 59 hits for a slugging percentage of .645.

Boyd is 25, a native of Memphis, and a World War II veteran.

Del Ennis Signs Philly Contract

Outfield Star Gets Near $25,000

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The National League champion Phillies breathed easier today—their No. 1 "artilleryman," outfielder Del Ennis, has signed his 1951 contract.

Big Del, top slugger for the pennant-winning white kids last year, led the league in runs batted in after two previous futile contract talks with owner Bob Carpenter resulted in a substantial pay boost on the third day. The salary terms were not divulged but Ennis probably will draw about $25,000 in 1951.

Del, a home-town product who cost the Phillies no more than trolley fare from his Olney high school neighborhood to Shibe Park for a tryout, is the highest paid player in the White Kids' history. Still a youngster, Ennis will begin his sixth year with the Phils. Last season he pounded in 126 runs, batted .311, and hit 31 homers for the league champions.

SANFORD-BURDETTE SIGN

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The signing of pitchers Fred Burdette gave the New York Yankees 21 players in the fold for 1951 today.

Hockey Scoring Mark At Stake

Mohawks-Barons Clash Tonight

(By International News Service)
Leadership in the all time goal-scoring department of the American Hockey league will be at stake tonight when the Cleveland Barons play host to the slipping Cincinnati Mohawks.

Phil Hergesheimer, veteran right wing of the Mohawks, will be trying to overtake Cleveland's Fred Thurier in their race to become the first 300-goal man in the circuit's history.

Mohawks Fighting
Thurier, who may be idled tonight by a cold, leads with 289 goals while Hergesheimer stays right behind him with 288.

The Mohawks, once the hottest club in the league, are now fighting to stay out of the western division cellar. A victory over the Barons will put them in third place.

No other games are scheduled for tonight and none were played last night.

DUQUESNE ENDS LOSING STREAK

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Duquesne ended a four-game losing streak last night by mauling Carnegie Tech, 66-43, in Pittsburgh.

Art Goldberg tallied 16 points for the Dukes to lead all scorers. Carnegie Tech tied the Dukes 25-25 at halftime but couldn't keep up with the more talented Duquesne five after the intermission.

Tells Plan To Enforce Price Controls In U.S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Economic Stabilizer Johnston announced today that the Justice department will enforce price controls through 96 special assistant U. S. attorneys to be appointed from the price stabilization staff. Johnston told newsmen that "a complete understanding" has been reached on the enforcement issue by the Justice department and price stabilizer DiSalle.

He explained the OPS will nominate men from its staff to become special assistant U. S. attorneys in each of the 96 judicial districts throughout the nation. They will be concerned only with price control violations.

DiSalle's agency will make investigations on compliance with price control orders and turn over any violations to the special Justice department attorneys for prosecution in the courts. The attorneys will handle both civil and criminal litigations.

The special attorneys also will represent ordinary citizens who report price violations and seek damages for the overcharges.

Johnston's announcement ended a two-week-old disagreement over whether the Justice department or the OPS would enforce price ceilings.

Start Survey On Retailing Course

Charles W. Steadman of the University of Pittsburgh will arrive here tomorrow to start work on a survey of retail establishments in the city to determine the sentiment in favor of inaugurating a course in retailing, under the distributive education program of the University of Pittsburgh extension department.

This is a followup on a meeting held under the auspices of the Greater New Castle Association, which was attended by representatives of the retail merchants division of the GNCA, school officials and representatives of the university, at which time the various courses in distributive education were explained. The survey was authorized by the group at this meeting, which was held February 2.

Raymond Ferro At World Premiere Of 'Operation Pacific'

Raymond C. Ferro, fireman, USN, of 308 Fern street, New Castle, was a guest at the World Premiere showing of the picture "Operation Pacific" at the U. S. Naval Submarine Base, New London, Connecticut. This premiere was staged exclusively for submarine force personnel and their guests.

Ferro who entered the Naval service in June, 1948, is serving aboard the submarine USS Toro.

P.O.W. And Guard

The LONG AND SHORT of conflict in Korea is portrayed by 12-year-old Llewellyn on the South Side after James reported Shoaff drove a car recklessly. When his car was searched several auto accessories were found. When questioned he said he had bought one ornament from a Youngstown wrecking yard. Also he had Frank Zajac, Jr., West Terrace avenue. Zajac was an occupant of the car Shoaff drove.

They are being quizzed by State and city police today.

New York Stocks

Stock Market Is Generally Higher

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Strength in aircraft issues featured a generally higher stock market today.
Douglas Aircraft was the pacesetter with a rise of 2 points to 108¾ on news of a two-for-one stock split. United Aircraft gained 1½ to 38¼ on announcement of a proposed 20 per cent stock dividend. Boeing was up 1 to 54¼ and Lockheed rose ¾ to 42¼.
Among the pivotal favorites, U. S. Steel was up ¾ at 46¾, General Electric up ¼ at 54½, DuPont up ½ at 90¼, Bethlehem Steel up ½ at 58¼, Chrysler up ½ at 77½ and General Motors dividend was unchanged at 51.
A few issues attracted special buying. They included Stone & Webster which was up ¼ at 22½ and Western Union up ¾ at 46¾.
Rock Island was a leader in the rails, climbing ¾ to 59½. Baltimore & Ohio and Northern Pacific edged fractionally higher, but Pennsylvania was off ½ at 23¾.
Curb stocks were mostly higher. Electric Bond & Share was up ¼, Cities Service up ½ and Kaiser Frazer up ¼.
Grains were erratic. Soybeans slumped more than 5 cents a bushel on the price rollback order, but wheat advanced 3 cents a bushel.
